Ike Okays 100,000-Man Military Cut

Wilson Sees 200 Million Dollar Saving

Army Will Absorb Half Of Reduction, Air Force 25,000

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP) — President Eisenhower today approved a 100,000-man cut in the armed forces to be carried out within the next six months.

Secretary of Defense Wilson issued the reduction order to the military services after receiving a White House okay to carry out an economy move that Wilson said will save approximately 200 million dollars.

The Army was ordered to absorb one-half the total cut from its authorized strength of one million men. The Navy's reduction quota was 15,000, the Marine Corps' 10,000 and the Air Force's 25,000.

2,789,642 In Uniform

The actual strength of the armed forces on May 31, the last compilation available, was 2,789,642.

A Defense Department spokesman said it was his understanding that the 100,000 cut was based upon this year's authorized strength of 2,800,000 uniformed men and women. The order would thus mean an actual reduction of 89,642 from the latest known total strength.

Wilson, in a "memorandum for the President," said the reductions can be made "without materially affecting deployments of major combat units abroad, including those in Western Europe."

Review Promised

In a separate memorandum to the service secretaries, Wilson promised a thorough review of the whole military manpower picture in the fall. And he said an additional reduction of 8,135 officers is planned. He didn't fix a date for lopping off these officers, nor did he say whether additional enlisted men would be released at the same time.

Of the 100,000 to be released, Wilson specified that 11,865 be officers and the rest enlisted men.

Swish, And Another Record Falls

Maj. John Glenn Jr., climbs from the cockpit of his Navy Jet fighter at New York's Floyd Bennett Field only 3 hours, 23 minutes and 8.4 seconds after he left California's Los Alamitos Naval Air Station yesterday. His time clipped more than 21 minutes off the Air Force's record for the 2,460-mile trip. It was estimated that Glenn averaged 726 miles per hour—faster than the speed of sound at ~~35,000 feet~~, the height at which he flew. (Story at bottom of page) (AP Photofax)

Clinton Minister Recites Story Of Beating, Jeers

Government's Star Witness Takes Stand

MINISTER TESTIFIES — Rev. Paul Turner, Baptist minister, rests during a recess yesterday in the Clinton segregation trial at Knoxville, Tenn. He told the court how he got his nose bloodied by a fellow townsman who taunted him with cries of "nigger loving preacher" during Clinton racial disorders last Dec. 4. (AP Photofax)

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 16 (AP) —A Baptist minister gave a blow-by-blow account in U.S. District Court today of how he got his nose bloodied by a fellow townsman who taunted him with cries of "nigger loving preacher" during Clinton racial disorders last Dec. 4.

It was an oft-told tale, but the Rev. Paul Turner recited it in meticulous detail for the all-white jury. He named his assailant as Clyde Cook, 36, an Oak Ridge plant worker and a defendant in the Clinton segregation trials.

The 34-year-old minister's testimony marked a high spot of the government's attempt to prove that 14 Tennesseans and northern segregationist John Kasper conspired to violate an anti-violence injunction at integrated Clinton High School.

Defense To Open Case

The government is expected to wind up its case tomorrow.

The defense, with more than 80 witnesses under subpoena, may take the criminal contempt case well into next week.

Turner's constant repetition of the words "nigger lover" in describing how members of a mob heckled him touched off volleys of angry objections from the defense.

Turner, pastor of Clinton's First Baptist church, was attacked on the town square and beaten after escorting six Negro students to the formerly all-white school.

Clinton High was the first state-supported secondary school in Tennessee to mix the races.

Turner said Cook tried to "jump me" when he started to pass him on the sidewalk.

Knocked Eight Feet

"I began backing across the street," the minister said. "I kept him away from me by holding my arm out and backing fast."

Someone—he said he did not know who—got behind him and pinned his arms to his sides so that he was "powerless," he added.

"Mr. Cook hit me on the nose with his fist," he related. "The impact separated us by some eight feet."

Earlier, a woman school teacher, in relating events during the same morning that Turner was beaten, testified about mobs shouting "catcalls, jeers and filth" after the Negroes were escorted to the formerly all-white school.

Mrs. Harry F. Miller, a pert, smartly groomed woman with greytinged hair, said the explosion of mob disorder came shortly after 8 a.m. when the Rev. Turner escorted six Negro students back to the school.

Hoffa Denies He Hired Cheasty As Probe "Spy"

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP) — James R. Hoffa denied from the witness stand today that he ever suggested John Cye Cheasty get a job with the Senate Rackets Committee so Cheasty could feed its secrets to him.

Testifying in his own behalf against charges of conspiracy, bribery and impeding operations of the rackets committee, Hoffa said he never had any discussion with Cheasty about getting a job with the committee.

Furthermore, Hoffa swore, he never had any discussion with Hyman I. Fischbach, Miami attorney. He said Cheasty and Fischbach were hired to prepare and present testimony before the committee.

In this and other testimony, Hoffa directly disputed earlier testimony by Cheasty, New York lawyer-investigator, who is the key government witness in Hoffa's trial in Federal District Court.

Hoffa, 44, a vice president of the Teamsters Union and chairman of its Midwestern Conference, took the stand after Fischbach had refused to testify as a defense witness.

"In the present posture of this case," said Fischbach, "I will not be a witness against myself."

Hoffa and Fischbach are jointly accused of inducing Cheasty to get a job with the committee and bribing him. They went on trial together June 28, but Fischbach was granted a mistrial last week when his attorney, Daniel B. Maher, became ill.

As Fischbach was called to the stand, Hoffa's attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, asked Fischbach whether he knew Cheasty. Fischbach said that until he has an opportunity "to take the witness stand before a jury that can exonerate me of these charges, I am not going to testify."

Head Of Bakers Union Denies He Kicked Woman

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—A gray-haired Bronx housewife confronted the president of the International Bakers Union at a Senate hearing today and said he kicked her during a screaming hotel room brawl.

The Senate Rackets Committee also dug into a story of reprisals against a committee witness by the same union president, James G. Cross.

Cross said it wasn't so that he was one of a group that invaded the San Francisco hotel room of Mrs. Nathan Ehrlich and her husband last October, beat up her husband and kicked her. There had been previous testimony that the husband, president of Bakers Local 51 in New York, was part of a rival clique trying to dethrone Cross.

Chairman McClellan (D - Ark) said somebody was lying today. Mrs. Ehrlich and her lawyer promptly challenged Cross to a lie detector test. McClellan said the committee would study the idea. Cross' attorney said he and his client would think it over.

Cross got no chance to reply today to testimony of John Klansek of Oglesby, Ill., an international representative of the Bakers Union, that Cross countermanded all his assignments June 21, the day after a Klansek affidavit was put in the committee record. Cross was told to stand by for another appearance tomorrow.

The affidavit said a poor contract had been negotiated with Zion Industries, Zion, Ill., operated by Martin M. Philipsborn Jr. Cross has testified that Philipsborn's father has loaned him around $100,000 over a period of years.

North-South Battle Signal Given, 71-18

President Hopes Measure Will Be Kept "Effective"

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP) — The Senate voted 71-18 today to take up President Eisenhower's civil rights bill.

It was the signal for a bitter North-South fight that may last all summer.

Soon after the Senate decision, Eisenhower issued a statement expressing the hope that, in considering amendments, the Senate, "will keep the measure an effective piece of legislation."

Specifically, Eisenhower opposed the idea of guaranteeing jury trials in contempt of court cases which might grow out of the legislation.

But Sen. Russell (D-Ga), leader of southern foes of the bill, said: "We are prepared to expend the greatest effort ever made in history to prevent passage of this bill in its present form."

As soon as the House-approved measure reached the floor, Sen. Morse (D-Ore) moved that it be sent to the Judiciary Committee for a week's study. This motion was defeated 54-35.

Anderson Offers Amendment

Then Sen. Anderson (D-NM) promptly called up his amendment to strike out the controversial section 3 of the bill, which would give the attorney general new powers to seek federal court injunctions for the enforcement of all manner of civil rights. Violators of these injunctions could be jailed or fined by federal judges for contempt without a jury trial.

While Anderson's amendment thus became the pending matter in the battle over the bill, he said he did not care to start debate on it tonight. The Senate recessed at 6:21 p.m. until noon tomorrow.

Not since 1946 have supporters of civil rights legislation been able to get a bill before the Senate.

Their victory today came after eight days of debate in which the measure was hailed as moderate and progressive legislation and denounced as a plot to push the South back to conditions prevailing in the reconstruction era which followed the Civil War.

Sixty-six speeches, by a press gallery count, were made in this first phase of the historic debate.

Compromise Chances Uncertain

Now a determined band of southern Democrats led by Russell is expected to filibuster for weeks against the bill unless its terms are softened greatly by amendments. With senatorial tempers growing shorter in the summer heat, the chances of a compromise are still uncertain.

Almost all other legislative business in the Senate will be suspended until the civil rights issue is settled. Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, said this may take two months.

A coalition of 42 Republicans and 29 Democrats joined forces to bring the bill to the floor.

The 18 "no" votes came from 9 of the 11 southern states. The senators from Tennessee and Texas, including Majority Leader Johnson of Texas, voted for consideration of the bill.

This indicated that in any attempt to talk the bill to death the opposition could depend on only 18 speakers—the senators from Virginia, Mississippi, Louisiana, North and South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, Florida and Arkansas. Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) has served notice he will not support a filibuster, although he wants the bill modified.

Czech-Russian Unity Pleases Red Party Boss

MOSCOW, July 16 (AP)—Beaming with satisfaction, Nikita Khrushchev returned home today from an eight-day tour of Czechoslovakia. He was apparently highly pleased with the display of Czech-Soviet unity which marked the visit.

In the final speech of his tour at Prague, the Communist party chief made a strong bid for closer cooperation among all nations of the Communist camp, including Yugoslavia, and friendship with Western "progressive" parties.

He came away with a Soviet-Czech communique which declared a complete unity of views on everything from Khrushchev's purge of the Kremlin to unconditional outlawing of atomic and hydrogen bombs and tests.

Smiling with satisfaction at these results, the jaunty Khrushchev stepped from a Soviet jet airliner tonight and waved his hat at a high-level crowd of about 200 gathered at the airport to greet him. He was followed closely by Premier Bulganin, the nearly silent man who had accompanied Khrushchev to Czechoslovakia.

President Klementi Voroshilov, Ho Chi Minh, visiting president of North Viet Nam, Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, nearly all the other members of the Presidium, and even M. G. Pervukhin, former economic czar who was demoted in the recent shakeup, were on hand for the welcoming ceremonies.

At Lenin stadium, Khrushchev told a mass rally the "genuine affection and friendship of the Czech people for the Soviet people had to be seen to be believed."

Senate Group Kills Eisenhower's Plan For Monetary Study

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—Voting as a bloc, Democrats on the Senate Banking Committee today killed President Eisenhower's plan to have a White House commission study the nation's finances.

Two committee Democrats whose votes had been considered doubtful, joined the other Democrats in outvoting Republican members 8-7. The GOP members reportedly had gotten personal appeals from Eisenhower to spur action on the measure.

Democrats want to keep an investigation of money matters strictly in the hands of the Democratic-controlled Senate Finance Committee. This group began its public study two weeks ago.

With "tight money" considered a hot political issue, the Democrats had no enthusiasm for letting the administration appoint a panel to investigate its own fiscal policies.

The rival plans for a fiscal study have stirred bitter partisan debate. The intensity of political feeling was demonstrated yesterday when Sen. Kerr (D-Okla) said on the Senate floor that Eisenhower hasn't the brains to understand federal fiscal problems.

Kerr was rebuked at the time by Sen. Capehart of Indiana, senior Banking Committtee Republican and author of the bill which the committee shelved.

The Capehart - Kerr dispute raged on today, with the Indiana senator insisting that the official record of yesterday's debate show Kerr as saying:

"No man can help Eisenhower study the fiscal policies of this government, because one cannot do that without brains, and he does not have them."

Kerr had sought to amend the record to make it read "without fiscal brains." However, he agreed to let the original record stand.

Capehart at one point cried, "Id say that I'd rather be a friend of the President of the United States without brains, than a friend of the senator from Oklahoma with brains."

Kerr said he would let history decide who was right in the argument.

Said Capehart of Kerr: "His tongue completely runs away with his mind."

A commission study of fiscal policy first was proposed by Eisenhower in his State of the Union message in January.

Capehart's bill would have permitted Eisenhower to name a nine-member study commission without Senate confirmation.

57 Die In Crash Of Dutch Plane

THE HAGUE, July 16 (AP)—The death toll of a KLM Royal Dutch airliner that plunged flaming into equatorial seas off northwest New Guinea was set tonight at 57.

Among those given up for lost were 19 children.

One of the 12 survivors, a Dutch child, died of burns. All hope was abandoned for the other 56 persons—passengers and crew members—who went down with the plane a few moments after taking off before dawn from Biak for Amsterdam.

It was the biggest disaster in Dutch aviation history.

The liner, a Lockheed Super Constellation named the Neutron, was reported to have broken loose its tail on striking the water five miles off Biak island. All the survivors had been seated at the rear.

Three aboard were Britains, all among the dead. The rest were Dutch. Most of the passengers were government and navy personnel and their families.

Dr. Dirk Leiker, 37, a missionary physician, lost his wife and four children in the crash off shores where he had been working among lepers for seven years.

Top Demos Pay Tribute To Cox

DAYTON, Ohio, July 16 (AP) — Many of the nation's leaders today paid tribute to James M. Cox, newspaper publisher, former Ohio governor and 1920 Democratic presidential nominee, who died Monday night in his home here at the age of 87.

Private burial services will be held tomorrow morning in Woodland Cemetery here followed by a public memorial service in Dayton's Christ Episcopal Church.

In Washington, House Speaker Sam Rayburn said he had lost "a very dear old friend" whom he termed "one of the finest men I ever knew."

House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts termed Cox "one of the greatest Americans of all time."

Democratic party Chairman Paul M. Butler said the death of Cox meant that "our country has lost a respected elder statesman, and the Democratic party a wise counselor. Gov. Cox conducted a vigorous, dignified and thoughtful campaign for the presidency. Although he was defeated, he lived to see the principles for which he fought vindicated on the pages of history."

Butler's statement was in reference to the 1920 campaign in which Cox and his running mate, Franklin D. Roosevelt, fought for American inclusion in the League of Nations.

He was defeated in that election by another Ohio publisher, Republican Warren G. Harding of Marion. Harding won by over seven million votes.

Plane With 16 Aboard Missing

TAIPEI, Formosa, Wednesday, July 17 (AP)—A U.S. Air Task Force plane with nine passengers and seven crewmen aboard was reported missing today on a flight from the Philippines to Taipei.

The C47 transport was due at its home base here late last night. It was officially listed as missing when it was more than five hours overdue early this morning.

On its last radio contact the plane reported it was over Hsinchu, 30 miles from Taipei. A search is in progress.

The Air Task Force declined to name those aboard.

TV Death Set Branded Lethal

CHICAGO, July 16 (AP)—A professor of electrical engineering today branded as lethal a portable television set involved in the electrocution of a 5-year-old boy.

After tests ordered by Coroner Walter McCarron, Dr. Eric T. Gross, professor of electrical engineering at the Illinois Institute of Technology, said:

"At this time there is certainly enough electricity coming from the top plate of the set to kill someone."

McCarron ordered the tests by Gross and other experts prior to the convening of a jury on July 30 to probe the circumstances of the electrocution of Howard Erenstein Jr., 5, of suburban Skokie, Sunday. The child was killed by an electrical shock as he brushed against an aluminum cart on which the set had been resting as the Erenstein family watched TV in the kitchen of their home.

Gross suggested that a lamp be connected with the top of the television set and an ordinary electric socket to see if current would flow. One terminal of the lamp was linked to the television and the other attached to a socket. The lamp glowed brightly.

A set identical to the one touched by the boy also was tested with a light socket. It failed to light the bulb.

The set, an 18-inch portable, was manufactured by the General Electric Co., Syracuse, N.Y., and put on the market this year.

Navy Jet Breaks Record, Beats Sound Across U.S.

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP) — A Navy single-engine jet fighter flew coast to coast at better than the speed of sound today to smash the Air Force's transcontinental record. Its top speed was over 1,000 m.p.h.

Marine Maj. John Glenn Jr., 36, brought his swept-winged silver F8U1 Chance-Vought Crusader from Los Alamitos, Calif., Naval Air Station to Floyd Bennett field in 3 hours, 23 minutes and 8.4 seconds.

The old record was 3 hours, 44 minutes and 53.88 seconds set March 9, 1955, By Lt. Col Robert Scott in an Air Force F84F Thunderstreak.

The speed of sound at sea level is about 740 m.p.h. At the altitude Glenn flew it is only about 670 m.p.h. because the air is thinner. Glenn averaged unofficially 726 m.p.h., including three slowdowns to take on fuel in the air over Albuquerque, N.M., Olathe, Kan., and Indianapolis, Ind.

He flew at about 35,000 feet, coming down to 25,000 to refuel.

A second jet fighter took off with Glenn at dawn. But it had to land at Albuquerque when it had trouble refueling in the air.

The first transcontinental air flight in 1911—east to west—took 82 hours, 4 minutes. Theoretically, at least, Maj. Glenn could fly three times around the world in that length of time.

Rear Adm. Thurston B. Clark, commander of the Naval Air Test Center at Patuxent, Md., planned the speed flight "to test the sustained capability of the Crusader at near maximum power over a long distance."

The venture was dubbed "Operation Bullet." Glenn's jet averaged 140 m.p.h. better than the muzzle velocity of a .45 caliber bullet.

Foreign Aid Bill's Chances Improve

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—Rep. Bow (R-Ohio) informed the House today he will not try to tie his proposal to end foreign trials of GIs onto President Eisenhower's bill authorizing foreign aid for the coming year.

Bow's announcement greatly brightened chances for passage of the $3,242,333,000 aid measure, without major change.

House Speaker Rayburn (D - Tex) said he thinks the bill, already passed by the Senate, will win House passage in just about the form approved by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Boy, 18, Slays Mother, Sister In Sudden Rage

VIRGINIA, Minn., July 16 (AP)—A first degree murder charge was filed today against an 18-year-old youth who admitted killing his mother and baby sister during a sudden rage that followed hours of morose, lonely drinking.

William Niemi Jr., waived preliminary hearing in Municipal Court and was bound over to District Court on the two - count charge.

In a statement to police, the slight, bespectacled machinist admitted firing a pistol and shotgun at his parents and 4-year-old sister, Mary, last night because "I was mad at everybody."

"Haunted" Dog Warden Gives Wife Fatal Shots

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., July 16 (AP)—The superintendent of Daytona Beach's Humane Society admitted to officers today that after a day of beer drinking he jabbed into his wife's stomach two shots of an anaesthetic he kept to dispose of "small kittens and dogs."

She died an hour later.

Walter R. Hoffman, 44, who also is the city's dog warden, said he made the injections July 7 as she "sat sagging in a chair" after their drinking. He said he had no idea why he did it, adding:

"My wife was the best woman in the world. That's why I can't understand any of this. I've been begging the lord to give me an answer."

During questioning by State Atty. W. W. Judge, Hoffman told a story of being haunted by the trust and friendliness of animals he had been forced to put to sleep.

Hoffman took the job on a temporary basis, then was persuaded to stay on after the then superintendent was forced by illness to leave.

At one point Hoffman said "something may have gone wrong with me somewhere because it's really bothered me, putting those animals to sleep.

"It did something to me each time I saw a dog wagging its tail at me just before I put it to sleep."

He said humane society officials recently supplied him with the anaesthetic to put dogs and cats to sleep after the gas chamber went out of order.

"The animals cried too much as they were being put to sleep in the chamber," he said.

Hoffman said he didn't sleep the night after his wife's death and was prompted to surrender because he felt he had had some part in her death.

Bulgaria Reds Purge Three Party Leaders

VIENNA, July 16 (AP)—Radio Sofia announced today the ouster of a deputy premier and two other leaders from the Bulgarian Communist party's key units. Neighboring Romania has had a similar shakeup in the wake of the recent master purge in Moscow.

Bulgaria's First Deputy Premier Georgi Tsankov was removed from the party's Central Committee and the Politburo. Former Minister and Deputy Premier Dobri Terpetshev and former Gen. Janko Panov were purged from the Central Committee.

The Sofia broadcast quoted a communique saying the ousted party members had been charged with "systematic opposition against the policy of the party and its political unity."

Atom Arms Stockpile For NATO Planned

Dulles Discloses Move Considered

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—The United States is considering setting up a stockpile of atomic weapons for Western European nations, Secretary of State Dulles disclosed today.

He said this would be "an act of confidence which would strengthen the fellowship of the North Atlantic community."

He told a news conference a study would show "within the next few weeks perhaps" whether a change in U. S. atomic law would be needed.

"No definite conclusions have been reached," Dulles said, referring to the whole idea.

He got on the subject when a reporter questioned him about America's disarmament negotiations with Russia, Canada, Britain and France.

The question was whether the United States would, in connection with is disarmament proposals, make available nuclear material and weapons to any western nation agreeing to quit trying to make its own atomic weapons.

"We are studying ways whereby, through perhaps a NATO stockpile of weapons and various arrangements of that sort," Dulles said, "there can be assurances to our Allies that if they are attacked, if war comes, that they will not then be in the position of suppliants, as far as we are concerned, for the use of atomic weapons," Dulles said.

He said he was not sure who would own the stockpile—suggested it might be placed in the hands of Gen. Lauris Norstad, American commander of NATO military forces.

In the event of war, the President as commander in chief could order Norstad to turn nuclear weapons over to the Allies.

Dulles spoke out also on several other subjects, including the shakeup in the Kremlin last month. He said he is convinced "Modernists" led by Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev have won out over "fundamentalists" who had wanted to rule Russia "with a rod of iron, in accordance with the Stalin example."

Dulles saw in Russia an "irresistible demand of the people for more personal security, more freedom and more enjoyment of the fruits of their labor." He called it "internal politics." He said there was "no particular evidence it will involve any change in foreign policy."

Sincerity Of Governors In Liquor Row Questioned

COBB ISLAND, Md., July 16 (AP)—Sincerity of the governors of Maryland and Virginia in protesting liquor licensing of a boat in the Potomac River was questioned today at a bickering meeting of the Maryland Legislative Council.

A letter from the Colonial Beach, Va., Chamber of Commerce, endorsing three Maryland licensed piers there, was delivered dramatically by speedboat while the state yacht was carrying the legislators up the river.

At the time, the legislators were discussing with officials from Charles and St. Marys counties a protest in writing from Gov. McKeldin to licensing of a converted ferry boat anchored off Freestone Point, Va.

The C. of C. letter concluded with a statement that, "the desire of the overwhelming majority of our business people and residents should be carefully weighed along with the rash statement of officials that might be talking of political gains or minority groups."

Sen. Phipps (D-Anne Arundel) said the letter "raises the question of just how sincere Gov. Stanley of Virginia is." Gov. McKeldin said he acted at the request of the Virginia governor.

McKeldin's own sincerity was questioned in another letter sent him by the Charles County commission after it had reviewed the issued license and declined to withdraw it. The commission vote was two Democrats to one Republican.

The letter sent by the two Democratic commissioners to Republican Gov. McKeldin suggested he was prompted by "political expediency" with intent to run for another office after he leaves the Statehouse next year.

Democratic legislators whooped as the letter was read to them.

They weren't in complete accord, however, in their reaction to visit last night to the piers at Colonial Beach.

"The situation there is shocking," declared Del. Boone (D-Balto County). "There was open and flagrant selling of liquor to minors. The fair name of Maryland certainly has been slandered."

Phipps claimed the alleged violations were no worse than at other liquor places in Charles County. "Some people think that any place that sells liquor is shocking," he said.

Charles County officials said they have had no reports of violations at the Colonial Beach establishments, while there have been some from others in the county.

Boy Angler Drowns

BALTIMORE, July 16 (AP)—A 5-year-old Baltimore boy fishing in Baltimore Harbor off Pier 5, Pratt Street, fell in and drowned today.

Central District Police said the victim, Paul Hook was identified late today by his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Hook.

Zhukov Renews Denunciation Of Ousted Reds

MOSCOW, July 16 (AP)—Marshal Georgi Zhukov, Soviet defense minister newly elevated to the ruling Communist party Presidium, revived the "denunciation campaign" against the ousted Kremlin leaders today.

He accused them of lawless acts and warned that the Soviet army would always stand "ready fulfill the will of our people."

Zhukov, in a Leningrad speech, suggested V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov and Lazar Kaganovich had lost the claim to full membership in the Communist party.

Malenkov, former premier and more recently minister of electric power stations, is officially reported assigned to manage an electric power plant in Eastern Kazakhstan. Moscow also has announced new jobs have been found for former Foreign Minister Molotov and former First Deputy Premier Kaganovich. All three, apparently, have retained their Communist party membership.

An official transcript of the Zhukov speech, delivered to a mass rally in Leningrad on the second day of a Soviet navy celebration, said the defense minister cited proofs of law violations by the three men who were ousted from the party Presidium late in June.

The accusations came after a week-long lull in the campaign of denunciation against the three former leaders. These charges first were raised by the Communist party chief, Nikita Khrushchev, a week ago in Leningrad at the high point of the denunciation campaign.

Book Is Handed To Tipsy Quartet

BALTIMORE, July 16 (AP)—The judge threw the book at four imbibers today.

Magistrate Milton Talkin fined four men $25 and costs each on charges of disorderly conduct after they were picked up yesterday for being drunk.

He suggested to them that they should read "The Happiest Man in the World," an autobiography of a man who recovered from alcoholism.

After they were led away, Talkin called a local bookstore and ordered copies of the book sent—at his own expense—to the jail.

Then he called the jail, and left word to give each of the men a copy while they serve out the fines they couldn't pay.

M'Keldin Urges Study Group Cooperation

ANNAPOLIS, July 16 (AP) — Gov. McKeldin said today that modern methods are more important than modern machines in increasing governmental efficiency.

The governor left Friday on a four-week trip to Europe, but a letter from him was sent out today to the heads of all State departments, agencies and institutions.

McKeldin urged these members of his official family to "cooperate fully" with the self-survey commission named last week to study State government.

"I have kept this main group small in number—an even dozen," the governor said, "but actually this is a cooperative project—and opportunity for each of us. . . to participate in the modernization and improvement of the government of Maryland and its services to the people."

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. July 16 (AP)—Nine hundred construction workers returned to work at Oak Ridge's three atomic energy plants today, ending a one-day work stoppage.

'Stopgap' Laws To Meet Court Decision Urged

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP) — Rep. Murray (D-Tenn), chairman of the House Civil Service Committee, said today "stopgap" legislation is needed to meet last year's Supreme Court decision that the present government security program applies only to persons in sensitive jobs.

But, he said, he did not see how "at this late date" in the session, Congress could enact security procedures proposed by the 12-member Commission on Government Security.

The commission chairman, Loyd Wright, asked the committee today to approve a series of bills based on the commission's recommendations, saying that the government has to be sure of the loyalty of all of its employes.

He said it is hard to pick out a federal job which would give no opportunity to injure national security. For that reason, he added, there is no room anywhere in federal service for "disloyal citizens."

Wright conceded it might be "wishful thinking" to expect congressional passage of the bills this year. But he, too, said stopgap legislation is vital.

The executive branches have "carried on with temporary and makeshift procedures" since the Supreme Court decision, Wright said. He added that his commission found "utter lack of uniformity" in dealing with the loyalty-security program, as well as duplication, lack of trained personnel and dispersion of responsibility.

The commission suggested establishment of a central security office, which Wright asked Congress to set up.

Rep. Walter (D-Pa), chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, has introduced a bill to make the security program apply to all federal civilian employes. Walter told the committee the courts have been invading the legislative branch of government.

He urged the committee to approve "any proposal that will let the Supreme Court know when they invade the legislative field we will exercise our prerogative."

The committee will consider Walter's bill tomorrow.

Delaware Schools Ordered Integrated

WILMINGTON, Del., July 16 (AP)—A U.S. district judge has directed that al. schools in Delaware must be desegregated by the start of the fall term in September.

U.S. Dist. Judge Paul Heahy issued his order yesterday directing the State Board of Education to carry out the ruling because it has "general control and supervision of the public schools."

Judge Leahy said the State board must submit a plan to him within 60 days for integrating the schools, and that the blueprints for it should be in the hands of all local school boards within 45 days.

The order ended 14 months of litigation brought by parents of Negro children seeking admittance to all-white schools.

Budget Chief Hopes For Billion Savings

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration told Congress today it hopes to save an additional billion dollars by taking another look at plans for 1958 government spending.

Budget Director Percival Brundage gave this word to the House Appropriations Committee. He told newsmen after the closed session he had no idea at this time just where the hoped-for savings could be made.

Democrats on the committee argued—and Republicans denied—that any savings on the scale mentioned by Brundage would stem largely from congressional cuts in annual appropriations bills.

Transport Quarantined

BREMERHAVEN, Germany, July 16 (AP)—The U. S. Army today ordered the quarantine of a troop transport to prevent the spread of Oriental flu. The Army said the transport, Gen. Patch, had 122 flu patients among its 1,256 passengers and crew. The ship, due tomorrow from New York, will be anchored in the Weser Estuary outside the port. None of the cases was reported serious.

Baltimore Bank Robbed Of $850 By Lone Gunman

BALTIMORE, July 16 (AP) — A lone gunman robbed the Standard Federal Savings and Loan Assn. office of approximately $850 a half-hour before closing time today, took one shot at the bank manager and fled with the loot.

The FBI said late today the loot amounted to $865. Earlier, it had been estimated at $2,000.

Police said the gunman, described by witnesses as a thin, bushy-haired Negro, entered the bank, pulled out a pistol and said, "This is a stickup."

Mrs. Grayce Gerry, a teller and alone at the time, screamed.

John Laukaitis, secretary of the savings association, was in a rear office. He rushed out when he heard the scream, and the bandit fired point-blank at him as he came through the door. The bullet struck the wall near him, ricocheted into Laukaitis' office and imbedded itself in the woodwork.

Laukaitis ducked back in his office and ran out a rear door into the alley, shouting, "Holdup Holdup."

The bandit ordered Mrs. Gerry to lie on the floor, officers said. He vaulted the railing, scooped up cash from the teller's drawer, leaped back over the railing and fled out the door.

Laukaitis, meanwhile, had circled around to the front of the building, located at 684 Washington Blvd. He said he saw the robber run down Penn St. and gave chase, but lost track of him at Penn and Lombard.

Laukaitis and Mrs. Gerry were taken to Southern Police Station to look at "mug" pictures to try to identify the bandit. Police laboratory men began searching for fingerprints on the bank's railing.

Ward President Denies Any Deal With Teamsters

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP) — President John A. Barr of Montgomery Ward Co. testified today it is "absolutely untrue" the company gave the Teamsters Union a contract in return for support in a proxy battle for control of the firm.

Barr appeared before the Senate Rackets Investigation Committee at his own request to try to correct what he said was "a great wrong" done Montgomery Ward.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) listened to the testimony of the head of the big mail order house and said it seemed to him the whole idea of a company-union deal "falls on its face."

But Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass) commented: "It's difficult for me to disassociate the signing of the contract from the proxy fight, to be honest with you."

Montgomery Ward signed a contract with the Teamsters on March 31, 1955. Teamsters President Dave Beck was quoted at the time as saying that three weeks later the union would vote Ward stock it had purchased on the side of the management. The management was in a fight with financier Louis Wolfson for control of the company.

Barr said Wolfson was defeated by 4,100,000 to 1,700,000 and the 12,500 or 14,000 shares of Ward stock purchased by the Teamsters was insignificant and inconsequential to the outcome. And as the man who was personally in charge of negotiations with the union, he said the way the union voted its stock had no bearing whatsoever on the signing of the contract.

Youth Captured By Teen-Age "Posse" Held On Morals Charges At Dundalk

DUNDALK, Md., July 16 (AP)—A group of teen-age boys, on the lookout for a man who had been molesting youngsters in the area, today captured a 19-year-old youth in a patch of woods and carried him to a police station.

The blond-haired youth was booked as Paul Ruper Smiley and charged with sodomy, assault with intent to rape, assault with a deadly weapon and two counts of assault to do bodily harm. He was ordered held in $3,400 bail.

He was spotted by 15-year-old Paul David Hacker, who ran to a filling station and yelled to a group of boys.

They ran back into the woods with young Hacker, Edward Hammond, 17, ran the youth down and dropped him with a flying tacle.

The youth put up a struggle, but the "posse" subdued him and packed him off to the station.

Police said last May 30 a youth, armed with a knife, threatened a boy and girl, both 10, who were playing in the wooded area. He reportedly tied the boy to a tree and assaulted the girl.

On July 2, police records show, a youth answering the same description again used a knife to threaten two nine-year-old boys looking for turtles in the woods. He tied them with a rope he carried, but later released them.

On July 13, a boy and a girl, both 10, who were fishing in a stream said they were approached by a youth who offered to lead them to a better fishing place. He tied up the boy, they reported, and committed sodomy on the girl.

Dundalk is a suburb on the eastern outskirts of Baltimore City.

U.S. Requested To Return Land On Md. Campus

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—Congress was asked today to approve a bill under which 14 acres of federal land on the University of Maryland campus would be returned to the State of Maryland.

The land was donated to the federal government by the State more than 20 years ago. Three buildings are located on the tract, and the bill would call for Maryland to pay the federal government $1,045,000 for the structures.

In testimony before a House Interior subcommittee, spokesmen for the Bureau of Mines, which occupies two of the buildings, and the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries urged that the bill be amended to contain authority for them to acquire new land and construct suitable facilities to continue their work.

Marling J. Ankeny, director of the Bureau of Mines, also asked that the bureau be allowed to continue its tenancy until new quarters are available.

Rep. Lankford (D-Md), sponsor of the bill, said the Interior Department has large unused areas within 10 miles of the university in Prince Georges County which could be used as a site for new buildings for the Bureau of Mines. He suggested that federal property at either Piney Point or Solomon's Island on the Patuxent River, near Chesapeake Bayl would be suitable for the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

Ankeney observed that the $1,045,000 payment for the present buildings probably wouldn't be sufficient to construct new facilities, and Congress would have to be asked to appropriate a larger sum.

The subcommittee did not act on the bill.

Towson Woman Dies After Crash

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., July 16 (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Owens of Towson, Md., died late today in Harford Memorial Hospital of burns and injuries suffered in a collision earlier in the day.

The Owens car was in collision with a gasoline tank truck on U.S. 222 near Port Deposit, Md. Mrs. Owens had caught fire in the crash and had been in critical condition.

Spilled gasoline was ignited, police reported, but the driver of the truck and others managed to drag Mrs. Owens and her 10-year-old son, Marshall Owens Jr., from the car.

A State Police ambulance, rushing her to a hospital, overturned on the way while sweeping around a turn on the highway. Another ambulance dispatched from the Naval Training Center at Bainbridge, Md., brought her here.

SRC Reports Rise In Road Construction

BALTIMORE, July 16 (AP)—The State Roads Commission let contracts for 34.6 miles of new construction in January-June this year compared with 20.6 miles for the same period last year.

The work involved totaled $23,605,000 for the six-month period of 1957 compared with $16,731,000 in the same period last year.

Overall, for road building and improvements, the SRC said, contracts worth 47 per cent more were approved for the first half oft his year over the similar period last year.

Scheduled cost in the 1957 period was $32,307,000 compared with $20,167,000 in the earlier six months.

The SRC also reported that contracts for three projects on secondary roads were let at a cost of $174,682. There were no such contracts awarded in the first half of 1956.

W.Va. Revenue Record Broken

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 16 (AP)—West Virginia general revenue for the fiscal year ended June 30 climbed to a record $101,656,338 for an increase of $6,140,531 over 1955-56, the Department of Finance and Administration reported today.

Commissioner George B. Vieweg Jr. said gross sales tax collections amounting to $48,301,308 as compared to $42,870,770 in the previous fiscal year, were responsible for most of the increase.

The consumers' sales tax accounted for $30,622,564 or approximately 2½ million dollars above last year's figure.

Denzil Gainer, who served as budget director under the past four administrations and who now is assistant legislative auditor, said without a question the 1956-57 revenues represent a record for the state.

Most of the surplus was anticipated by the Legislature and the Board of Public Works. However, with all surplus appropriations released by the board, the 1948 budget session of the Legislature will start off with an unencumbered balance of $720,613 in general revenue.

Most of the anticipated surplus was appropriated for physical improvement to the state's colleges and parks.

Between 1939 and 1952 air passenger mileage increased about twenty times in the United States and Switzerland, almost twenty-two times in the United Kingdom, and more than forty times in Brazil.

SRC Meetings Today

BALTIMORE, July 16 (AP)—State legislators and county officials of Kent and Queen Annes counties will sit in with the State Roads Commission at several meetings tomorrow.

One session is scheduled at the Chestertown office of Sen. George B. Rasin (D-Kent). Another will take place at the home of Sen. Robert Dean (D-Queen Annes) at Centreville.

HAGERSTOWN, July 16 (AP) — Washington County charitable organizations will concentrate their efforts under a United Community Fund, J. H. Balis announced today.

Powerful New Jet Engine Quieter Than Prop Motor

By VERN HAUGLAND

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev., July 16 (AP)—A new whispering giant of a jet engine blasted away at full throttle on a mountain side test stand here yesterday. The modest roar that echoed over the sunlit rocks and sagebrush gave a promise of future quiet and reliable jet airline service for cities throughout the world.

Listeners found themselves agreeing with the engine manufacturer, the Curtiss-Wright Corp., Woodridge, N.J., that the engine was much less noisy than the military jets now flying.

Roy T. Hurley, Curtiss-Wright president, said an airliner with four of the new jet engines—the Zephyr TJ38—also would be quieter than the current propellor-driven four engine transports.

Hurley told reporters current jets all use engines developed for military purposes. He said with satisfaction as newsmen, airport representatives and airline officials listened to the low sound output of the first engine noise demonstration of its kind:

"That's the sound level we think can be reached if we forget military engines and go commercial."

The 12,500-pound thrust engine was run up first at full power with observers 350 feet away. Sound measuring equipment registered 100 decibels, which Hurley said was generally considered the maximum noise output the public would tolerate. He added a four-engine propellor driven airplane at that distance would produce about 116 decibels and a military jet would produce up to 135.

Inflation Poses Grave Problem For U.S. Allies

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Inflation, which so far has aroused little more than academic debate in the United States, is becoming an increasing problem throughout the Western community of nations.

The debate in Great Britain follows lines close to those in the United States.

Will tight money, and a voluntary lessening of labor union pressure for higher wages, be sufficient to halt the trend?

Those are the two points about which most British comments revolve. They make the point made by President Eisenhower, that there is too much pressure for wage increases which are not based on increased productivity. But labor is caught in the spiral, too.

The chronic inflation in most Latin-American countries has now broken into a gallop.

France is under tensions which have not yet come to a head, but which constantly threaten her with devaluation. She has continued a good many wartime controls. Right now she is faced with two problems.

She is increasing her reliance on import quotas in an effort to stop the outflow of foreign exchange, while trying to increase exports. This concern with exports in turn has its effect on domestic inflation.

France has price controls with which she seeks to prevent the automatic wage increases which accompany rising living costs there. She is even making what is for France a rather revolutionary effort to collect taxes.

But since World War II she has had heavy military expenses in Indochina and Africa, and the pace is telling.

Italy has tried to stiffen her money and hold price lines. One result has been to increase unemployment, already a serious political and economic problem, without reducing pressure for increased wages.

The stability of all of these countries is vital to the United States, as her's is to them. All are running into trouble during a period of relative prosperity. Britain's economy has been going through one crisis after another ever since the war. One of the basic reasons why Britain's anti-inflation measures have not worked is that increasing industrialization around the world constantly weakens her place as artisan of its raw materials and banker for its development.

Reactor For Portugal

LISBON, July 16 (AP) — The United States will give Portugal an atomic reactor to train technicians. It will be erected next March between Lisbon and the bull fighting center of Vila Franca de Xira.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

DETROIT, July 16 (INS) — Came here for a dinner honoring the 50th anniversary of the Air Force and the 40th anniversary of the drying out of a mud cake that became the great Selfridge Air Force Base.

The guest of honor, among a great conglomeration of alumni of Selfridge, was Lt. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell. I sometimes wonder if the public in general realizes what a bargain it is getting in a man like O'Donnell. I know of few, if any, men as beloved and respected in this land as Gen. O'Donnell. Like a number of other outstanding public servants he works for the salary of the boy who hands the bats to Mickey Mantle, but if the war gong rang ten minutes from now he — and his ilk — would be the ones we'd turn to in utter supplication to save tens of millions of American skins.

Gen. O'Donnell, as he pointed out in his abbreviated remarks before the Michigan Aero Club, is but one of lord knows how many Selfridge alumni who won a star. These include Generals Spaatz, Doolittle, LeMay, Lindbergh, Partridge, Irvine, Putt, Cannon, Boatner, Burns, Griswold, Finch, Kelly, Johnson, Douglas, Gerhart, Todd, Underhill, Harbold, Robinson, Warburton, Prindle, McNickle, Sterling, Woodbury, Hutchinson, Eckert, Hewitt — and some generals to be like Gabreski and Zemke.

Another star at the dinner was Col. Tom Lanphier, Sr., Selfridge base commander in 1925, one of the true pioneers of our air power. He and a handful of men in planes you and I wouldn't fly in today helped to demonstrate back in those days that the airplane was a weapon that could take its place with the warship and the artillery piece. When Billy Mitchell sank a battleship, Lanphier was demonstrating that groups of airplanes could fly considerable distances, like from Selfridge to San Francisco, without spending weeks on the ground having engine parts replaced. In the great scheme of things, that was just as important as sinking an immobilized battleship.

Gen. O'Donnell was one of a group that took the Air Force, or whatever it was called at that time, out of the realm of romantic fiction and helped to make it what it has become today — the realistic muscle that keeps the peace of the world.

It's interesting to dwell on the fact that the bulk of our great airmen sprang from a field named for a man who dreamed mightily of air power and was to be its initial victim. Thomas Etholen Selfridge, born in California, educated at West Point when MacArthur and Wainwright were there, eventually found himself as the Army's representative and tester of an odd flying contraption which had been sold to the Signal Corps by the Brothers Wright.

Our total investment in air power at that time was $25,000. Lt. Selfridge died in a crackup September 9, 1908 at Fort Myer, Virginia. Orville Wright, the pilot, survived.

But because Selfridge dared, and showed the way, many lived and persevered and built up a striking force that has no counterpart in the history of arms. The honored guest at the Aero Club's dinner — the general they call "Rosie" — is among these. It was an honor to be with him and his peers.

County Obtains $76,285 From Horse Racing

Allegany County and seven incorporated communities in the county enjoyed a "payoff" from horse racing in Maryland with receipt yesterday of a check for $76,285.30 as their share of tax receipts at the tracks.

The City of Cumberland receives $32,095.60, the county gets $31,412.43; Frostburg, $5,857.11; Westernport, $2,922.65; Lonaconing, $1,949.78; Luke, $698.47; Midland, $757.28; and Barton, $591.90.

The allocation is based on the population of the communities and the population of the county outside the incorporated limits of the seven towns listed.

No action was taken by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners on a motion by Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson to donate $1,000 to the Friends Aware of Handicapped Children.

Commissioners William H. Lemmert and James Orr said they wanted first to obtain some information from Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of Allegany County public schools, on the program and funds which will be available for conducting classes for the children who are handicapped.

Laborer Jailed For Scalding Son

BALTIMORE, July 16 (AP)—Rufus Blackmon, 38-year-old laborer, was sentenced to 30 days in jail yesterday for scalding his 13-year-old son, Joseph.

The boy appeared in court in bandages covering first and second degree burns of his lower back. He must return to the hospital for additional treatment.

Blackmon told Police Magistrate Standley L. Richardson he spilled the hot water accidentally as he tried to pour it.

It was being heated on the stove by his wife to throw at him, he said.

Wilkinson Declines $10 Increase In County Check

One of Allegany County's commissioners questioned a $10 increase in his county pay check at yesterday's county board meeting.

Commissioner C. N. Wilkinson called on Mrs. Johanna N. Sills, county auditor, to explain why he received the extra $10.

Was he being paid the same ten per cent wage increase that other county workers received at Friday's meeting of the commissioners?

Mrs. Sills told Wilkinson that she had included the $10 as payment for the assessment review board meeting which had been scheduled last Friday afternoon. The meeting was not held.

Wilkinson said he never attended these meetings and the $10 should not have been included in his check. He then requested that a new check be drawn with the $10 review board payment eliminated.

Mrs. Sills said that the checks are drawn up prior to the twice monthly review board meetings and that in the event they are not held or the commissioner does not attend then the sum is deducted from the followinng salary check. She said it was a bookkeeping procedure followed in her office.

W. O. Teter appeared before the board to complain of a drainage problem on Lake Avenue in the Bowman's Addition section. Teter said he has appeared before the board on two previous occasions.

Teter said that due to the slight grade of the avenue and lack of proper drainage ditch surface water runs across the roadway and onto his property. Commissioner James Orr said he would visit the scene with J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor, to see what can be done.

Board Accepts Super Concrete $9,835 Bid

The Super Concrete Company made the only bid on a contract to supply metal decking, guard rails, terminals and end dams for repairing nine county bridges.

The bid was $9,835.84 and it was accepted by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday after being checked against the specifications by J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor and Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board.

The individual items for each of the bridges and the prices of the Super Concrete Company follow:

Midlothian bridge across Winebrenner Run, $810.23; at Shaft across George Creek, $1,052.33; on Woodcock Road across Jennings Run, $1,621.52; in Brice Hollow across an unnamed stream, $1,080.62; on Legislative Road in the Klondyke area, $671.27; on Woodland Road in the same area, $682.79; on Williams Road in the Flintstone area, $974.04; on Christie Road across Evitts Creek, $2,217.23; and on Jeffries Road near Buck's Motel on U. S. Route 40 east of Cumberland, $725.06.

Materials purchased for the work on the nine bridges later this month include 45 pieces of 12 guage guard rails in 12½ foot lengths, 36 end terminals, 3,910 square feet of seven guage cirrugated metal decking (punched), 306 square feet of seven guage cirrugated metal decking (unpunched) and 506 linear feet of 10 guage end dams.

The commissioners received a letter from the Keyser Office Supply Company asking that the board award them the contract for office furniture for the County Assessing Department.

The firm stated that they had made the low bid and cited the competition from Cumberland firms was felt in the West Virginia area. They also said they employed one part-time and one full-time worker who are citizens of Maryland.

No action has as yet been taken on the bids for the office furniture.

Airline Extends Family Fare

Allegheny Airlines has extended the reduced fare family plan to include Saturday, Leslie O. Barnes, president of the company, announces.

Under the airline family plan now confined generally by the airlines to Monday noon through Thursday noon, the head of a family can, after buying one full fare ticket, take his wife and children on an airline trip at half the regular fare.

Allegheny is making the reduced rate available to "families" on Saturday both because it is a traditional family travel day and as a means of encouraging new air travel.

Allegheny officials also believe the plan will serve as an inducement to travel on Saturday, thus leveling off the very heavy traffic peaks of Friday afternoon and evenings when many air travelers are unable to obtain reservations.

More than one-half of the American women who work are married.

Education Board Seeks Furniture Bids

The Allegany County Board of Education is advertising for bids for classroom furniture for the new Northeast Elementary School on Valley Road, according to Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of schools.

Bids on 275 plastic top student's tables of varied heights and 380 chairs of two heights are being asked. They will be opened July 25 at 2 p. m. at the board's office on Washington Street.

Webster said the bidders must deliver and install the new equipment by August 28. The new school will be ready for use when school opens early in September.

The Board of Education has purchased and has on hand the desks and chairs for the teachers and also the chairs and tables for the auditorium and cafeteria, Webster said.

Cement Supply Locally Near Critical Level

A national strike of cement workers continued unabated yesterday amid warnings from contractors on the flood control project here that if new supplies are not forthcoming soon, the situation might become critical.

Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer for the U. S. Corps of Army Engineers, said contractors are in their busiest season. There are approximately 1,500 to 2,000 barrels on hand and pouring of concrete is progressing at an average of 170 to 200 yards a day. The supply will last about two or three weeks if good weather prevails, he added.

The United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers Union said talks are continuing in a number of manufacturing centers to break the stalemate existing since mid May. About half the nation's cement production has stopped.

Local supplies for the flood control project come, for the most part, from Mannheim, W. Va. Officials there also met in an effort to reach agreement, Dexter said, adding that they believed the situation is not good.

Another factor in the strike is that contractors in the east and south are reported paying from 8 to 77 per cent more than pre-strike prices for cement. Much of the increase apparently stems from the cost freight on purchases from sources in the Midwest, West and Canada.

Meanwhile, locally, work is progressing rapidly on the temporary wooden span across Wills Creek at Baltimore Street.

The wooden structure is completed, Dexter said, with only the approaches remaining to be constructed before the bridge can be put into use. This is expected to take about two or three more weeks.

Presently C & A Gas Company workers and C & P Telephone Company linemen are removing existing gas lines and telephone cables from the concrete bridge and transferring them to the temporary structure.

Dexter explained the transfer of the telephone cables require a tremendous splicing job and the telephone company has informed him that about two weeks will be needed to complete the job.

New manholes already have been constructed at each end of the bridge and trenches have been dug on the Baltimore and Greene Street entrances for the underground work. When these trenches are filled in at the completion of the telephone and gas lines transfer then the bridge approaches will be readied and blacktopped.

Area's Early Peach Crop Starts Toward Market

Peaches from Western Maryland and northern West Virginia orchards are reaching local markets as picking of earlier varieties gets into full swing.

Henry Miller Jr., vice president and general manager of Consolidated Orchards, said packing of Early Red Free peaches has been started at the company's Irons Mountain orchard.

Miller said this year's crop of peaches is good for both quantity and size. The Early Red Frees will be followed by Hale Havens, Golden Jubilee and lastly, Sun High and Elberta varieties.

Not Many Early Varieties

The Mountain Fruit Sales Inc., peach and apple marketing cooperative for the Hampshire fruit belt, has no commercial quantity of the early peaches.

But about July 25 the first big movement to the market will begin with Jubilees, which this year are excellent from the standpoint of size and quality, quantity, R. L. Sumner, manager, announces.

Most of the early apple shipping has been completed by Consolidated, one of the ten largest producers of apples in the nation.

Early Transparents and Lodis brought prices better than last years,—$4 to $5.50. FOB, Paw Paw, Miller reported.

Half Goes To Canada

Half of the early crop went to Canadian markets Miller said. However, the volume of these early varieties was about half of that last year.

Apples in Consolidated's Hampshire, and Morgan county orchards were hurt by early May freezes that did extensive damage in low sections.

But Miller said the company's orchards in Allegany County escaped much of the May frost damage.

Later Type To Move

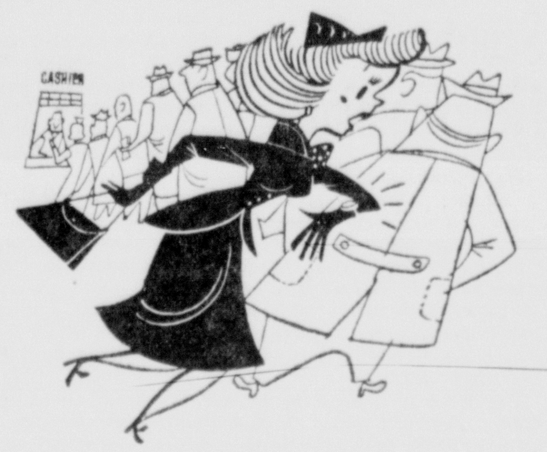

South of here in the Hampshire fruit belt there are no commercial crops of the early varieties. Summer pointed out that during the 1930s and early 1940s when the market was not good on these varieties, they were replaced with later varieties.

But now, the picture has changed with early apples bringing good prices in recent years.

Miller said Consolidated's next big picking will be Rambos and Northwestern Greenings about August 1.

The Hampshire orchardists plan to move Summer Rambos between July 25 and August 1, Sumner said.

Mountain Fruit sales started to ship the Duchess variety this past weekend and will follow with Rambos around July 25, Sumner reported. Marketing of Wealthys will start about August 1, he added.

Discussion Set On Garrett Co. Watershed Job

Forestry Aspects Will Be Studied

The forestry aspect of the Little Youghiogheny Watershed project in Garrett County will be discussed today and tomorrow in Oakland.

William H. Johnson, district forester, said yesterday that he will confer with Frank Paradise, of Upper Darby, Pa., watershed expert with the U. S. Forest Service.

Also planning to attend the meetings are A. R. Bond, assistant state forester, of Maryland and R. Thomas Thayer, assistant district forester.

Mr. Paradise will assist in the formation of the work plan for the watershed project authorized by Public Law 566 which is an agreement of private citizen, local government agencies and the federal government.

The plan will provide for flood control in small watersheds. Mr. Johnson pointed out the project was approved for the Little Youghiogheny River in nearby Garrett County and will provide protection against floods in Oakland and vicinity.

The program calls for a series of small dams and the reforestation of marginal lands to improve the water holding capacity of present forest vegetation by more intense management of the areas.

Soil Conservation District Supervisors of Garrett County, according to Mr. Johnson, will take care of the contracts for the building of the dam and will endeavor to institute better farming practices in the general area.

Sponsors of the program in Garrett County are the Town of Oakland, Board of Commissioners, the Soil Conservation Supervisors and the Forestry Board.

Dean To Speak

Ray O. Duncan, dean of the school of physical education and athletics at West Virginia University will be the principal speaker at tomorrow's meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Cumberland at Central YMCA, beginning at 12:15 p. m. He will discuss aspects of the educational program at the Morgantown university.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 16 (AP)—A woman school teacher will head up the personnel office in the state's new Department of Finance and Administration.

She is Miss Martha Ford of Lewisburg, whose appointment was announced today by Commissioner George B. Vieweg Jr.

At the same time, Vieweg announced the appointment of Carl A. Johnson, 47-year-old contractor of Sistersville, as director of the department's general services division.

Scouts To Get Fire Training

Boy Scouts now participating in summer activities at Camp Potomac at Oldtown will receive fire training this evening.

Brooke Bodkin, senior forest supervisor, will be in charge of the training. The scouts will learn how to use a portable pump as well as hand tools in extinguishing forest fires.

Fire jeeps maintained by the district forester's office in the battle of forest fires will also be demonstrated.

William H. Johnson, district forester, said yesterday that the construction of a fire line around the camp has been completed under the supervision of his office.

Scouts working on such a project gain points toward merit badges. Mr. Johnson said that the fire line is about 12 feet wide around the camp site which includes about 100 acres.

Such a fire line will be maintained to keep brush leaves and other flammable material cleaned up.

CHICAGO, July 16 (AP)—Agreement with the Olympic Portland Cement Co. at Bellingham, Wash., today brought to 27 the number of plants covered by new 16-cent wage boost settlement with the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum International Union.

However, the union's nationwide strike still tied up close to 70 of the industry's 140 production units and idled close to 16,000 workers not counting construction workers laid off because of curtailed cement supplies.

New Provisions For Soil Bank

House of Representatives, which buried the soil bank two months ago, dug it up the other day and voted to continue the program for one more year.

Enthusiastically endorsed by both parties in Congress in 1956, it went into operation late in that election year. The waste and mismanagement which critics charge against the plan were the natural consequences of hasty efforts to get relief to the farmers before the ballots were cast.

One new provision puts a limit of $3,000 on the amount of soil bank benefits any one farmer can receive during 1958. That effectively limits the relief which the plan provides to relatively small farmers and gives scant help to those who farm huge acreages.

Another provision provides that all benefits be paid by September 15, 1958, and this bars any chance payments might be rushed to farmers in doubtful districts at the last moment in the hope of influencing results of the 1958 congressional elections. The total amount which can be used to take acreage out of production is $500 million under the compromise measure.

It is still far from certain that this money will not be wasted.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

What Of Obscenity?

I have received from the publisher of "Confidential" magazine, a circular entitled "Hollywood vs. Confidential." It is a lengthy document in the course of which the publisher tries to establish it that the State of California is falsely accusing his magazine of publishing indecent and obscene literature and other evils.

The publisher also sent me, free of charge, a copy of his opus which I read to no advantage. He apparently is able to collect information about rather insignificant personalities, associated with the amusement industries. He must have a reporter in every bedroom and a microphone under every bed. How else could he have such detailed data about what, as he calls them, boys and girls—many passed 50, as I discovered—do in the privacy of their apartments? Those whom I have known in these arts, actors, motion picture actors, television and radio actors, singers, dancers and such, live about the same kind of lives as other people. I compare the life of my boyhood friend, Eddie Cantor, with the barnyard drivel I read in this magazine, and, of course, I can only conclude that this publisher specializes in black sheep.

One charge that is made is that the motion picture industry is out to get "Confidential." Why would they? Robert Harrison claims that he sells 3,000,000 copies of each issue. He whets the curiosity of those who like to read about the wickedness of living persons who might be seen in motion pictures. One need not go to Boccaccio or Margaret of Navarre for bad stories or even to read such novels as Fielding's "Tom Jones" or Zola's "Nana" for such stuff. It is possible in this magazine to read about current, living persons.

Therefore the charge that the motion picture industry is trying to get this magazine seems to me far-fetched, particularly as this industry has permitted widespread violation of its moral code and of its anti-Communist platform. It has recently permitted such pictures as ought to be intolerable in a moral society.

Harrison complains that the motion picture industry, in effect, buys the American press by advertising. In return, the newspapers build up the stars, giving them a good name when really they should be portrayed as very wicked, indeed. There are some of us who feel that the newspapers do give too much space to movie personalities, pictured usually in attire unsuitable for walking up or down Fifth Avenue. But Harrison should not call the pot black. His own magazine specializes in the notorious.

I do not believe that the motion picture industry avoids giving this magazine its advertisements as punishment for printing what Harrison calls "the truth." It is rather that they do not think it will help their box office to advertise the virtues of an actress on one page and to have her described in terms originating with Havelock Ellis or Sigmund Freud on the page opposite. That is just very bad business.

Harrison has shown unusual capacity as a magazine publisher and may I suggest that he turn from a publication that has made him rich but has no other value to something really challenging and worth while. For instance, the United States has no outstanding, popular learned magazine for adult males such as are published in every other country and which I have to import to keep myself properly literate. It would take genius to make such a magazine pay in the United States, although some universities publish quarterlies which are very good and provide food for thought. They are, of course, not jazzed up, nor are they printed in pink ink on blue paper.

My teen-age friends to whom I showed such a quarterly said that they are very dull and that anything that has footnotes shows that the author has no confidence in himself and has to be bolstered up by quotations. However, I have also seen these same teen-agers reading scientific magazines. That is because science has become a vogue since the A-bomb was discovered, which proved that Jack Armstrong, the all-American boy, or some other cereal hero was right. Besides, science pays off, while Milton and Keats do not. Maybe a clever publisher, like Robert Harrison, who could do so well with articles about nobodies might do even better with articles of permanent value. Surely, I do not need to read "Confidential" more than once.

Sen. Neuberger Will Demand End To U.S. Crop Support For Tobacco

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—Senator Richard Neuberger, Democrat of Oregon, is all set to make an extremely important demand of Congress—namely, the removal of tobacco as one of the six basic crops entitled to government subsidy.

Neuberger will make this demand on the ground that the Public Health Service has officially warned that cigarettes induce lung cancer.

"Why therefore," asks the Senator from Oregon, "should the American taxpayers be subsidizing a crop that contributes to the most terrible disease known to man?"

Spread Disease

"Eggs, oranges, apples, milk, and meat are not included in the basic crops," Neuberger has pointed out to close friends, "yet they are health-producing crops. Now that the Public Health Service, an official arm of the government, has spoken regarding cigarettes, I do not see why another arm of the same government should be spending money to spread disease."

Few people know it, but Neuberger is the man who prodded the Public Health Service into taking a stand on cigarettes shortly after the British Ministry of Health got into action.

Note 1—The six basic crops entitled to government price supports are wheat, rice, corn, peanuts, cotton, and tobacco.

Note 2—Secretary of Agriculture Benson will probably welcome Neuberger's move. A devout Mormon, Benson does not believe in the use of tobacco in any form. However, it's Congress, not he, who rules on which shall be the six basic crops.

Shoeless Congresswoman

Mrs. Merwin Coad, wife of the able young Congressman from Iowa, leads a relaxed life both in Iowa and the Maryland suburbs of Washington. Frequently, in hot weather, she works around the house and in the garden without shoes.

The other day she was driving to the grocery store in the family car when she realizzed she was driving in her bare feet. Mrs. Coad is the daughter of a minister. She is also the wife of a hard-working young Congressman whose career she does not want to handicap—even with bare feet.

So figuring that Maryland supermarkets required a certain amount of sophistication, she turned around, returned home and donned a pair of shoes. Then she headed back for the grocery store.

When she entered the supermarket, the first sight to meet her eyes was a pair of bare feet. Mrs. Coad looked up.

It was the wife of Congressman Jimmy Roosevelt, accompanied by the eldest son of the late President of the United States. Jimmy, however, wore shoes.

Behind Girard Case

If Congress really wants to investigate the Girard Case it should take a look at the part played by a certain energetic, opportunistic public relations man. If it hadn't been for him, there would have been no Girard Case, no special summons of the Supreme Court in mid-summer, and no worsening of relations with Japan.

Significantly, other GI's have been in trouble with foreign courts at exactly the same time, but the public hasn't cared too much about them. Airman Marion Musilli is in jail in Athens, Greece, for killing General Sarefis, and the American Embassy has ruled that he should be both tried in a Greek court and kept in a Greek jail. Army Specialist De Wayne McOsker is also in jail in France charged with killing an Algerian in a honky-tonk in an argument over paying for American cigarettes, which the GI was selling in the black market.

In neither case is the Supreme Court being summoned into spesial session, nor have the secretaries of state and defense been hauled before Congress, nor have their cases been discussed between the president and te prime minister, as in the case of Girard. For no public relations man seized upon their cases as pregnant with headlines.

The public relations man who pounced on the Girard Case and represented him free is John David Griffin, son of an even better-known public relations man, William Griffin, a leader of the Christian front, whose activities during World War II caused him to be indicted for sedition.

Young Griffin saw the possibilities of the Girard Case, phoned Girard's brother in Ottawa, Ill., and enlisted as attorney Earl Carroll, also not averse to publicity, who has made a specialty both of defending GI's and raising cain with military courts.

Spectacular Lawyer

In defending Captain Jean De Angelis, sentenced to five years for gambling $79,837.67 of the U. S. Army's money on the racetracks in Rome, Carroll got unmercifully reprimanded by the court.

"His grossly insulting, provocative language is unnecessary," the judge officially reprimanded Carroll. "We cannot ignore such deliberately contemptuous tirades, nor permit a course of conduct designed solely to delay and hinder . . . the obstructive and abusive actions of counsel flouted the authority of the law member and made a mockery of the requirement of decorous behavior."

In contrast, Girard, in Japan, retained a top Japanese lawyer, only to fire him the next day on the demand of his brother. Girard also had the benefit of one of the best young U.S. Army lawyers stationed in Japan.

The shilly-shallying back and forth between Tokyo and Ottawa, Ill., did not help his case. The moves before the courts in the United States divulged evidence which might other ise not have come out—namely, that he had enticed the Japanese woman onto the firing range.

No wonder, when it was all over and the Supreme Court ruled that he was to be tried in Japan, Girard publicly stated that this was a lucky break. He knew that if he were tried by an American court martial they would have thrown the book at him.

Russia's Objective Is To Close "Nuclear Club"

By Joseph Alsop

LONDON.

The latest turn in the interminable and confusing disarmament conference finally seems to have revealed the primary Soviet objective. It has not been disarmament at all. It has been "limiting the nuclear club", to use the conferees cant phrase.

The "club" at present has two full members, the powers possessing a full panoply of nuclear and thermonuclear weapons, the U. S. and the U.S.S.R. It has one halfway member, Great Britain. Halting further nuclear and thermonuclear weapons tests will close the club books to further members, since no nation can hope to become a serious member of this fearsome club with exhaustive weapons testing. Closing the club membership books without further delay is in fact the single point on which an absolute identity of interest now exists between the United States and the Soviet Union. No doubt there are a good many people in Washington, like Admiral Lewis Strauss, who are strangely blind to this identity of American and Soviet interests. Remember the kind of things the Eisenhower Administration said about Adlai Stevenson when he first made the suggestion that bomb tests be suspended.

Still Ahead

But American nuclear weapons development is still ahead of Soviet weapons development. So it is the Soviets who will lose, if either giant power loses, by an immediate stoppage of weapons testing. And both the U. S. and the U. S. S. R. and indeed the world as a whole will gain by the prevention of the nightmare situation in which great numbers of nations will possess the absolute weapons, and Swiss manufacturers will be mass producing model T style A and H bombs for sale to the Egyptians, Syrians and the like.

Undoubtedly the Soviets went into the disarmament conference with many other possible objectives in mind. But judging by Valerian Zorin's latest outbursts, they started with the thought that the talks had at least one truly practical and attainable objective. They saw the identity of U. S. and U. S. S. R. interests which Admiral Strauss and friends have so strangely failed to see. They were undoubtedly much influenced by their fear of Germany as a nuclear power. Therefore they hoped to stop the weapons tests and so to close the nuclear club.

But the Eisenhower Administration was afflicted by divided councils. More important still, the United States delegation in London could not speak for all the other western powers, as Valerian Zorin can speak for all the nations of the Soviet bloc. In truth, there was identity of interest between the U. S. and the U. S. S. R. but a sharp conflict of interest between the U. S. and the other western allies.

This conflict has produced a good deal of behind the scenes drama. In the British government, for instance, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd have held that Britain would gain on balance if the nuclear club were closed now, despite the very incomplete stage of British weapons development. But this decision has been bitterly disputed by Defense Minister Duncan Sandys.

French Position

Again, the French delegate, Jules Moch, has consistently taken the view that France should agree to being excluded from the nuclear club in return for (but only in return for) a solid agreement on general disarmament. But the French general staff, certain French permanent officials and several leading politicians, including Prime Minister Bourgas Manoury himself, have the gravest doubts about Moch's view.

About ten days ago, therefore, Prime Minister Bourges Manoury attempted to alter Moch's previously agreed instructions. Moch immediately offered his resignation as French delegate to the disarmament meeting. The difficulty was not overcome until Moch had made an emergency trip to Paris and returned with his original instructions fully confirmed.

Thus, in effect, the views of Admiral Strauss and his friends in Washington played in with the quiet differently motivated views of America's Transatlantic allies. The result was the final Stassen proposal. In this proposal, halting nuclear tests and so closing the club was firmly linked with a broader system of disarmament and a very full and inclusive system of inspection and control.

In the circumstances, Valerian Zorin's indignant, intransigeant roars are altogether understandable if the Kremlin's true primary aim is considered. But despite the check that has been experienced in London, the great common interest of the U. S. and the U. S. S. A. still remain. The problem of preventing the nightmare of general atomic armament has nothing really to do with the problem of disarmament The problem of preventing the nightmare can well be solved independently, with only two provisoes. Admiral Strauss must somehow be cured of his curious delusions of atomic monoply. And the American administration must make the rather modest transfers from our vast stocks of nuclear weapons, which will persuade our allies to join in closing the atomic club's membership lists.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Supreme Court is knocking over committee decisions like they were ground pylons in a buffalo stampede.

Opinion of the average bias is our intelligentsia with the cerise myopia got a fairer trial than prohibition.

They took the fifth oftener than temperatures in a clinic.

We concede the legislative, the administrative and the judicial are predicated on a co-operative interference. But a man doesn't jump on a weighing machine just to have his fortune told.

Cooler heads of departments favor repetition of the constitutional solstices when we played the eighteenth amendment double or nothing. But if you persist in amending amendments the tail is going to heavier than the kite.

We concede the Constitution is still ground under repair. But if all men are free and equal why isn't every decision of the Supreme Clique a tie?

Riddle me that and we'll set 'em up in the other alley. We still claim the only incriminating question is, "when did you stop beating your wife?"

Don't take the fifth on that one. Make it a full quart.

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

Blessings on the falling out
That all the more endears,
When we fall out with those we love
And kiss again with tears.

Tennyson

"My sweetheart's name is Sandra," writes a young man of Manhattan. "Has there ever been a song about a girl so named?" I do not recall such a song. There should be one. How about a touching ballad titled What Could Be Grander Than Sitting On The Veranda Holding Hands With Sandra? Not so good, you say? Perhaps you are right. However, give me time. I'll think of something.

HEIRS

What are your prospects of being an heir to a fortune? I have nothing to dream about in that respect. When I was a kid I thought perhaps an uncle I had in South America might leave me a few million dollars. Nothing ever came of it. And you may have noticed the wills made by some wealthy fellows are exceedingly strange. Have just heard of an Englishman who willed that his five brothers and sisters should toss dice for his fortune. The relative having the high toss to get all the money. Settlement of that will must have been an interesting scene. Incidentally, the man making the will instructed the executor to carefully check the dice before each throw to see none of the prospective heirs sneaked in a loaded pair.

HORSES AND WOMEN

Italian girls have beautiful eyes but don't know how to handle them expressively. The French women are cleverest with the eyes in the matter of male attraction. They are experts in the "come hither" look. Scandinavian girls have the "sexiest" voices but have no style sense. Irish girls have the best complexions. English women have the most beautiful legs and are most possessed of that thing called "class." Such are the opinions of a U. S. naval officer who has spent much time seeing the world. We have asked him to join our Horses and Women Department. Maybe he knows something about horses.

BUSINESS WOMEN

Paulette Goddard is the smartest business woman in Hollywood history. So I note it said. That's wrong. Smartest business woman of all film actresses is Mary Pickford. Ruth Roland rates second in that respect. Ruth made a million dollars in business deals when money was much more difficult to acquire than now. Paulette Goddard rates third among Hollywood females as to business shrewdness. Janet Gaynor is fourth. Rosalind Russell is fifth.

GET IT RIGHT

A contemporary quotes the following: "I disapprove of what you say but I will defend to the death your right to say it." He credits the observation to Voltaire. That's wrong. It does not appear in Voltaire's works and there is no record of his having said it.

SUGGESTION

Get out of the grandstand. Be a sport participant. That is not only more fun but can aid in keeping you a healthy fellow. What sport? How about bowling. Your wife can go for that, too. It is very good for the figure, especially the waistline.

FOR INVENTORS

People with inventions they feel may make them wealthy keep asking me how to go about realizing financially on their ideas. I am no expert on this subject. However, I can recommend a book titled, "How To Find A Buyer For Your Invention" by V. D. Angerman, published by the Science and Mechanics Publishing Company, 450 East Ohio Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Should Communion Be Offered An Alcoholic?

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

May an asthmatic fly? Yes, but each person represents an individual problem. Pressurized planes are safe when there is wheezing or shortness of breath, even while resting. Long-standing asthma, associated with severe lung complications like emphysema may bar airplane travel.

Should communion be offered to an alcoholic? This controversial question arose at a recent midwest seminar on alcoholism conducted by a group of clergymen. The medical director of the Keeley institute, Dr. Herbert Karolus, would not hesitate to offer it if the individual "believed that the wine in sacrament is Christ's blood for forgiveness of sins and strengthening of faith."

A member of Alcoholics Anonymous expressed his opinion: "He'd be a pretty weak sister if he could not handle that little bit of wine."

A dog's life is far from pleasant, especially in the city. Dr. W. C. Glenney, president of the American Veterinary Radiology society, says these pets get ulcers from horn blasts, dense traffic, doubts about relations with other city dogs, and the general chaos of urban living.

Washington, D. C., is not only the nation's capital but is the nation's capital for psychiatrists. There are more than 300 and the number is growing constantly. But there are a lack of psychiatric units to handle emotionally disturbed patients who require short term hospital treatment.

Several new hospitals were built in metropolitan Washington in the last 10 years but only one included a psychiatric unit. It has 25 beds and is overworked, considering the number of psychiatrists. Plans are now afoot for 58 more beds in other hospitals.

Psychiatric units are becoming more popular because they are located in general hospitals and do not carry the stigma of commitment to a mental hospital. They offer facilities for modern treatment and in the future, 10 per cent of the beds of every new general hospital may be devoted to psychiatry.

INCONSIDERATE WIFE

J. W. writes: I'm ready to change wives because mine shows no consideration for me. She knows I can't stand cigaret smoke but she smokes constantly — at the table, in bed, and in the car. When I tell her it makes me nauseous she laughs and says I'm neurotic. What should I do?

REPLY

The majority of husbands compromise with their wives — they do it the wives way.

LINEN ERUPTION

K. F. writes: Is it possible to get a rash from bed linen?

REPLY

Yes, especially when the individual is sensitive to the chemicals used in laundering linens. Friction is another possibility; convalescents often have a rash over the elbows or on the lower arms where the skin is in contact with the sheet.

PHYSICIAN EVALUATES

W. L. writes: Does it take a physician to do an electrocardiogram and read it?

REPLY

No. Many medical technicians do an excellent job along this line. On the other hand, the ECG is only part of the total examination. Its purpose is best served when the evaluation is done by the physician who also takes into consideration the results of the physical examination and the patient's story.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed Telephone inquiries not accepted Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

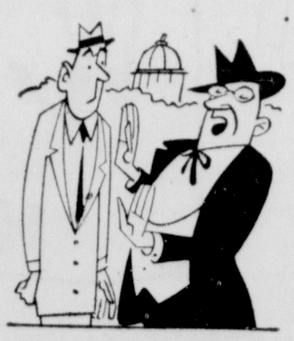

By Bennett Cerf

Arthur Hadley's Do I Make Myself Clear is a primer of basic Washingtonese that no visitor to the national capital can afford to overlook. Without Hadley to interpret, how could you know, for instance, that when a practiced politico says, "This has been a matter of principle to me since childhood," he means "it's a deal!"

"My answer is a definite and final no" is congressional slang "for the present I'm against it."

A multi-million-dollar giveaway program" means "no money being spent in my district."

"The press has not been entirely accurate in its presentation of this affair" is the politician's way of saying, "They've caught me lying."

And "I am receiving information from business men and labor leaders all over the country that the provisions of this law have proved grossly unfair" simply means "My brother-in-law is in trouble!"

Notches Third Win; Johnson Hits Homer With Mate Aboard

A four-hit pitching performance by Dave Richards and timely hitting on the part of Johnny Johnson were the highlights yesterday as Midland Post spilled the tossers of Fort Cumberland Post at Midland by the score of 6-3 and knotted the Mountain District American Legion junior baseball championship series at three wins for each team.

Cumberland had scored three wins in a row after losing the first two games of the series.

The seventh and deciding game will be played either Saturday or Sunday on a neutral field.

Johnson Belts Homer

Johnny Johnson, Valley High athlete, started Manager Hugh Coleman's team on the road to victory in the 6th game of the best-of-seven series by slamming a home run to left-center after Ray Winner had singled in the first inning. Fort Cumberland had scored a run in the opening frame on Hook's single, a stolen base and an error.

The defending champions tied the score at two-all in the second frame on Murray's single, stole base and Wayne Fleegle's two base belt.

Midland took a 4-2 lead in the second stanza by coupling a hit with a fielder's choice and two errors for two tallies. The home team added another run in the third on Johnny Johnson's double and singles by Rodney Johnson and Robert Winner.

Murray's walk, stolen base and an error produced Cumberland's final tally in the 4th frame. Midland registered its sixth and final marker in the 6th inning Tom Warnick's hit, stolen base and Johnny Johnson's base wallop.

Richards Fans Dozen

In notching his third win of the series against one loss, Richards whiffed 12 Cumberlanders and increased his strikeout total to 40 in 28⅓ innings in five games.

Midland nicked Wayne Fleegle, Fort Cumberland leftie, for an even dozen safeties, including a homer, double and single and three RBIs for Johnny Johnson and two hits each by Tom Warnick, Ray Winner and Robert Winner. Fleegle fanned seven and upped his total to 26 victims in 21 innings. His record for the series is 2-2.

A nine-run rally in the 5th inning made victory certain for the league leaders who have won 10 of 12 games played.

Melvin Nines, who relieved Donahue in the second inning, and mowed down nine on strikeouts, got credit for the win. Bill Ritchey, Steve Klavuhn, Rich Parsons and Pete Lease had two hits each for the Rotary Club. Gerald Altizer drew four walks and singled. Exchange collected only two hits.

Goodman, Moore Star In Victory

CHICAGO, July 16 (AP) — Righthander Ray Moore gave up two hits in the first inning and then retired 21 men in a row to pitch the Baltimore Orioles to a 3-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox tonight on the strength of Billy Goodman's two-run homer.

Moore was nicked for a blooped double by Nellie Fox and a run-scoring single by Minnie Minoso in the first inning then didn't give up another safety until Sammy Esposito's two-out single in the eighth.

With one out in the ninth, Fox, singled off Moore's pitching fingers and the 31-year-old veteran was forced to leave the game. Billy Loes retired the final two men to preserve Moore's sixth triumph against six losses.

Moore didn't walk a man and struck out seven. The victory was Baltimore's sixth in 11 games against Chicago.

Dodgers Win, Trail By Game

BROOKLYN, July 16 (AP)—Duke Snider blasted his 20th home run with a man on base in a four-run fifth inning that broke a 2-all tie tonight and carried the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 7-5 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals tonight.

It was the fifth in a row for the fourth place Brooks, now just one game shy of first place Philadelphia, beaten 6-2 by Milwaukee tonight. The Cards, although losing their fourth in a row, retained second place, a half game back, by one point over the Braves—who stayed four points ahead of Brooklyn.

The four-run fifth, handing young Lindy McDaniel an 8-6 record with his second defeat in a row, nailed it for the Brooks, but in the end, it was a two-run throwing error by Card right fielder Wally Moon that proved the big difference.

Warren Spahn Halts Phillies

PHILADELPHIA, July 16 (AP) — Milwaukee's Warren Spahn slowed down Philadelphia's National League express train with a six-hitter tonight as the Braves defeated the first-place Phillies 6-2 at Connie Mack Stadium.

The rarefied atmosphere of the League summit proved bothersome to the upstart Phillies. The only thing that kept them in their half game lead was second place St. Louis' 7-5 loss to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The loss broke a four-game winning streak.

Frank Robinson Beaned As Reds Lose To Giants

Felled By Gomez In 6 To 1 Battle

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)-Frank Robinson, Cincinnati's All-Star left fielder, was struck on the head by a pitched ball and carried from the field on a stretcher tonight as the New York Giants defeated the Redlegs 6-1. Willie Mays had four consecutive singles and Daryl Spencer drove in four Giant runs with a single and two home runs.

Robinson, the 21-year-old slugger who was the National Leagues Rookie of the Year last season, was struck above the left ear by a Ruben Gomez fast ball in the eighth inning. The ball split his protective helmet and it bounded into the Giant dugout as Robinson crumbled at the plate.

First reports said Robinson had suffered a concussion and that there was no sign of a fracture. He was conscious and spoke coherently during the examination in the clubhouse, then was removed to a hospital as a precautionary measure.

Spencer got the Giants started with an RBI single in the fourth after Mays had led off with a single against starter-loser Hal Jeffcoat and then stole second. Singles by Don Mueller and Ed Bressoud, who drove in the other two Giant runs, made it a two-run frame.

Spencer also closed the scoring, lining his second homer of the night and eighth of the season in the lower right field seats with a man on base in the eighth off reliever Buster Freeman.

The Braves exploded for five runs in the fourth frame to whip the Senators, 5-3.

Marty O'Toole tossed a four-hitter, fanned nine and notched his third win against a single loss. Alan Kaplon (2-2) gave up six hits, struck out 11 and hit a triple for the Senators. "Chuck" Fields paced the Braves at the plate with a triple and two singles. Scores:

Suter Kegg with a double and two singles and Bob McGreevy with three singles paced the K. of C. attack. Frye, Bill Bratt and Bill Lawrence had two hits each for the losers.

A two-run homer by "Ike" Cessna featured a 7-run rally by the Glassmen in the third inning.

Jack Burke's Arm Is O.K., Will Defend PGA Title

Field Of 128 Set For Ohio First Round

Other Players Are Reported Ailing; Finals On Sunday

DAYTON, Ohio, July 16 (AP)—Defending champion Jack Burke Jr. put his aggravated left wrist to test in a windup practice for the PGA Golf Tournament today and then announced: "It's okay. I'll go for it."

Burke, winner of both the Masters and Professional Golfers Assn. championships last year, opens defense of the latter crown tomorrow against Gene Marchi, pro of the host Miami Valley Golf Club.

It is one of 64 first-round battles involving 128 top-flight tournament professionals and little-known club teachers eager to impress the home folks with a victory over one of the big names.

Finals Set Sunday

The first match goes at 8 a.m. It will set off a series of eliminations demanding a total of 162 holes in the space of five days. The finals are slated Sunday.

Burke bruised the tendons in his left wrist recently in a home accident on the day he removed the bandages from his right wrist. This had forced his withdrawal from the National Open at Toledo a month ago.

If misery loves company, Burke has it. At least three other top-ranked contenders were fighting assorted ailments on the eve of the 39th annual match play wrangle of the professionals.

Others Complaining

Sam Snead, seeking his fourth PGA title, complained of bursitis in his left arm which he said for a while threatened to halt his tournament career. Former National Open champion Ed Furgol fell through a fence in Montreal, suffering a thigh injury which has kept him out of the last two tournaments. And Chick Harbert, 1954 PGA champion, is getting over the whooping cough and said, "the medicine leaves me weak."

Snead, who won in 1942, 1949 and 1951, said his left arm pained him so much at the Masters this spring that he thought he would have to withdraw. Later a doctor told him to quit golf until the condition eased.

"I went to Burke's doctor and got some whirlpool and electronic treatments," said Snead. "I feel I can hit the ball all right."

Ford, Snead Favored

Snead, strong as an ox at the age of 45, is co-favored for the championship with Masters champion Doug Ford, 1955, PGA winner and the year's leading money winner with $37,946.55.

Snead plays John Serafin of Pittston, Pa. in the first round. Ford squares off against Denny Champagne of Orlando, Fla.

Score Can Resume Workouts Thursday

CLEVELAND, July 16 (AP)—Herb Score can resume workouts Thursday and pitch a game in from four to six weeks, Dr. Charles I. Thomas said today after examining the young Cleveland Indians' pitcher's mending eye.

The 24-year-old southpaw was hit in the eye by a line drive last May 7, and he has been out of action since. For a time he could barely see out of the injured eye.

Score and his new bride, the former Nancy McNamara, returned to Cleveland early today from Florida, where they were married last week. They plan to live in an apartment here through the summer.

Game Is Postponed

The Rotary-Jaycees game scheduled today at 8:15 at Penn Avenue Field has been postponed and in its place will be the game between the Lions and B'nai B'rith, which has been shifted from East Side Field.

Equipoise Mile Will Attract 13

Swoon's Son Will Vie In Race Today

CHICAGO, July 16 — (INS) — E. Gay Drake's sensational four-year-old colt, Swoon's Son, heads a field of 13 handicap horses which go postward Wednesday in the 17th running of the $50,000 added Equipoise Mile at Arlington Park.

The race will serve as a tune up for the $100,000 added Arlington Park Handicap to be run on July 27.

Swoon's Son, the ninth-leading money winner of all time, will run as part of an entry. Dogoon, a good sprinter, and Swoon's Son, are being listed as even-money favorites.

Although Swoon's Son will be top-weighted at 132 pounds for the one mile event, his tremendous speed and stamina are expected to carry him ot his 22nd win in 31 lifetime starts.

Jockey Dave Erb will pilot the son of The Doge.

Swoon's Son has picked up $630,630 in three years of racing. If he wins this one, the Drake colt can add $35,000 to his earnings. This will place him some $1,770 behind Social Outcast's mark.

Chief threat to Swoon's Son will come from Calumet Farm's Fabius, which has won two races in eight tries this year. The illustrious son of Ponder will have Jockey Willie Hartack in the saddle and the brown colt will carry 123 pounds.

Three other favorites, Armed in 1946, Coaltown in 1949, and Sparton Valor in 1952, have carried 132 pounds and could not make the grade.

Fabius has lost four times this year to Swoon's Son.

T. Amour II, part of Frank C. Rand's Stable, is the big dark-horse. The English-bred colt which was owned by Aga Khan, will have Jockey Conn McCreary. The foreign-bred sprinter will carry 115 pounds.

Hasty House Farm will send its eight-year-old gelding, Sea O' Erin postward, while Charles Fritz has entered Sir Tribal, a six-year-old horse.

Gonzales, Segura Score In Tourney

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., July 16 (AP)—The old guard of professional tennis gave two of their young proteges lessons in the finer points of the game today in Jack Kramer's Tournament of Champions.

First, big Pancho Gonzales, undisputed king of the pros, took diminutive Ken Rosewall over the coals, 6-2, 8-6, 6-4. This marked Gonzales' 51st victory over Rosewall since the two started playing each other. Rosewall has won 26 times.

Then, bandy-legged Pancho Segura ran into Tony Trabert, who proved to be a stubborn pupil. Little Pancho finally convinced Trabert he was master, 6-4, 7-5, 9-11, 4-6, 7-5, before a crowd of 2,500 spectators at the West Side Tennis Club.

Grant Rides Five Winners At Monmouth

Ohioan Ups Total To 47 In 31 Days At Jersey Track

OCEANPORT, N. J., July 16 (AP) — Apprentice Howard Grant booted home five favorites today at Monmouth Park in six chances through the eighth race.

The meeting's leading rider with 47 winners drove Hi-Pine ($3.80) in the first race, Mastercraft ($3.80) in the third, Lord Gregor ($6.20) in the fifth, ($5.60) Always Sunny, in the seventh and ($7.40) Linda's Dream in the eighth.

His first losing mount of the afternoon was Home Boy which ran fifth, beaten two lengths by God Child.

The 18-year-old fledgling reinsman, who rode his first winner last October 9 at Cranwood Park, never had ridden more than four winners in an afternoon previously. His total here is 47 in 31 days action.

Grant spurred Always Sunny into high gear rounding the stretch turn to enable the bay miss to defeat seven rival sophomore misses in the feature. Always Sunny was three lengths in advance of Neshanic who had a length and a half advantage over Scullery.

Jockey Richard Lawless drove Canonize home in the second race to produce a $17.10 daily double, smallest of the meeting.

Grant's total of winners on Monday and Tuesday's program was eight.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Be Feminine

Don't be guilty of wearing fragrance just for special occasions. Keep in mind that men will often remember the fragrance of your perfume more vividly than they remember the dress you wore. Just a whiff of it and the memory of you comes back to him. You can learn something important from this. When you're selecting the perfume for you...the best way to judge is to try it out on a man. If he likes it, it's a big success!

Extravagantly Feminine

Don't feel that when you use perfume you are being extravagant. You are just being what we call "extravagantly feminine" and what charming woman shouldn't be guilty of that? The only extravagance occurs when you hoard a fragrance just to make a pretty ornament for your dressing table. Unfortunately, perfume evaporates once the seal of the bottle has been broken—reason enough to make you hurry and use it. If you want to prevent evaporation, blow on the stopper and quickly replace in the bottle each time you use the perfume.

There's nothing like fragrance to make a woman feel truly feminine! So learn to wear it in the most alluring manner. Apply it directly to your skin so that a cloud of fragrance "floats" with you as you move. To last, it must go on your skin—not on your clothes. Put on about 15 minutes before leaving the house...otherwise the lovely fragrance will vanish quickly in the open air. Place perfume at the pulse spots — throat, crook of the elbows, wrists and behind the knees—if you want to be enveloped in a fragrant mist. And always carry a purse-size vial of the same perfume with you so you can add a little during the evening.

Eichner Seeks Higher County Assessing Job

W. Edward Eichner, an assessor with the Allegany County Assessing Department, has applied to the State Tax Commission for the position of assistant supervisor of assessment for the county.

A copy of Eichner's letter to the tax body was received yesterday by the commissioners.

Eichner said that under the law the county is allowed to have an assistant supervisor who must have had five years experience as a senior assesor.

Eichner stated in his letter that he has been an assessor 14 years with the county department and qualifies as a senior assesor of more than five years experience.

He also stated that he has received certificates from the University of Maryland for attending the various assessing schools during the past years.

Eichner also cited that he is a member of the National Association of Assessing Officers and a charter member of the State Association of Assessing Officers and a member of the executive board for two terms.

Playground Lists Week's Events

Several activities are scheduled for this week at the Columbia Street Playground.

Today the Teenage Club will meet at 6:30 p. m., and a button show will be staged at 7:30 p. m. Movies will be shown at dusk.

A square dance will be featured at the playlot on Friday from 7:30 until 10:30 p. m.

Youngsters at the playground started their two-week swimming lessons this morning at Constitution Park.

Lions Will Hear Club Presidents

The Cumberland Lions Club will play host to the presidents of three local service clubs at its noon luncheon today in Central YMCA.

The guests are Robert Mathews of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; George A. Caswell of the Rotary Club and William H. Johnson of the Kiwanis Club.

Each man will acquaint the Lions on the scope of local and national programs of his organization.

Order Boomerangs

PALEMBANG, Indonesia, July 16 (AP) — Maj. Riyacudu, military commander of this south Sumatran capital, ordered his troops to arrest all auto drivers without licenses. One of the first to be collared and pay a fine was Maj. Riyacudu.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, July 16 (INS)—All the fans who have been writing me that Charlton Heston should have won an Oscar for his religious role of Moses in "The Ten Commandments" won't know him as the out and out "heavy" opposite Gregory Peck in "The Big Country." This is Charlton's first villain assignment and I hear it's a dilly. He and Greg have a fight that is the goriest since the old "spoilers."

I'm sure that one of the big reasons Heston accepted such a radically different role is because he will be directed by William Wyler. Jean Simmons is the girl between Greg and Heston.

"The Big Country" starts rolling in Stockton, California, on July 29 and Charlton is postponing his trip to Europe to plug "The Ten Commandments" to be there on time.

If Benny Hooper, the little boy whose rescue from a well made headlines last month, can act — he'll be launched as the juvenile star of Bob Aldrich's "The Snipe Hunt." Aldrich tells me, "I've contacted Benny's family in regard to making a test of him when I go east next week. From his newspaper pictures he's just the boy I'm seeking. If he's right for the part, he'll get it."

The story calls for a youngster who can do quite a bit of emoting as it's about a psychiatric murderer roaming undiscovered among the counselors of a boys' camp.

I hear through the grapevine that Director Richard Quine will see Brigette Bardot in Paris while he is in Europe. She's the girl who created such a sensation in "God Created Woman" because she appeared sans clothes. She is known as the refined, sexy type, whatever that means.

Quine will interview her with the idea of her appearing opposite Jack Lemmon in "The Roses," which will be shot in Naples.

Rock Hudson telephoned Phyllis that he now expects to finish "A Farewell to Arms" in Italy by August 1. They will then go to Malibu for eight weeks where Rock will rest.

At the end of that time he goes to Honolulu for "Twilight of the Gods," the Ernest Gann novel, which is next on his schedule for U-I. He'll take Phyllis with him. Her doctor forbade her to make the European trip, but he has told her she may go to Honolulu. It's a good thing Rock's coming home because his telephone bill is so much it would pay the national debt.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Les Paul and Mary Ford are seeking a baby to adopt.

Charlie Feldman sailed Friday for Europe for the summer. His ex-wife, Jean Howard Feldman, who is living in his house, is being much entertained. Jack Warner gave a small dinner party Sunday for Jean, Dolly O'Brien, who looks absolutely wonderful, and Cole Porter. While Jean was in Greece with Cole, she took beautiful color pictures which she has sold to Vogue magazine.

It's a baby boy, their third, for photographer Sid Avery and his wife.

Bob Taylor is going bear hunting with Chamber of Commerce head, Terry Smith, in Colorado, before he comes home from location. There is a black bear killer that has been ravaging range stock and Bob's out to get him.

The bluest eyes in town belong to Molly Bee, cute little U-I actress. She and Tommy Sands hold hands just like any teenagers and sing duets.

Astrid, pretty wife of David Myers, of Modern Screen magazine, expects her baby August 6. I hope it will be a girl.

Natalie Wood has put in a pitch for Bob Wagner for the Noel Airman role in "Marjorie Morningstar."

Rhonda Fleming will cut her first record immediately. She's just signed a contract with Columbia Records.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—New York City had 5,000 less fires in 1956 then the previous year, but still rang in more than 44,500 alarms. Public cooperation and increased inspection were credited with the decrease, the third in as many years.

Frederick St. Liens Reduced

The Mayor and Council authorized the tax collector to reduce the amount of liens for special assessments against property owners in connection with the Frederick Street improvement project.

The action is pursuant to an agreement reached in Allegany County Circuit Court and represents 50 per cent of the cost of installation of a storm sewer. Amount involved is $30,216.55.

In another action, the collector was ordered to reduce the following liens as the result of charges for benefits not received.

Tri-State Towel and Coat Service, $408.20 to $399.24; Joseph Mattingly (right side), $573.06 to $485.49; Joseph Mattingly (left side), $1,325.96 to $894.70; Richard Schwab et al, $1,028.87 to $775.12; and John A. Stehley, $673.16 to $650.30.

These are also subject to further reduction in lieu of the storm sewer decision in court, it was pointed out.

Stock Market Retreats After Nearing New High

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—For the second straight session the stock market today backed away from an early advance which promised to carry it even further into new high ground for the year.

There was plenty of good news to fuel the rise. A couple of industrial giants, Du Pont and General Electric, had announced record half-yearly earnings. Jones & Laughlin, one of the top-ranking steelmakers, was able to report a rise in net income despite a lower operating rate.

Volume totaled 2,510,000 shares compared with 2,480,000 yesterday.

Chrysler was the most active stock, off ⅜ at 79⅝ on 53,100 shares. Second was North American Aviation, off 1 at 24⅛ on 48,600 shares. Third was General Motors, off ⅜ at 46⅞ on 42,300 shares.

Next came Revlon, off 1¼ at 34⅜ and Bethlehem Steel, off ½ at 50.

New York Central made an unaccustomed appearance on the most active list, rising ⅝ as it declared a dividend of one share of Reading Co. stock for each 25 shares of Central held. In previous quarters Central paid 50 cents in cash. Reading stock closed at 34 today, making the new dividend of higher value than the old.

Opening lead: Ten of diamonds.

When an American team, of which your reporter was a member, invaded French territory in 1956, we were soundly repulsed by a highly aggressive outfit of men. Early in June this year one of my teammates, Samuel Stayman, in cooperation with Edith Kemp of Miami Beach, was able to extract a bit of revenge by carrying off the five session pair championship at Antibes on the French Riviera. Competing were French and Swiss teams and numerous internationalists from Great Britain, West Germany, Austria, and Italy.

Shown today is a defensive effort which contributed to the victors' success. Mrs. Kemp's selection of the ten of diamonds for the opening lead is worthy of note. That a diamond must be lead is too obvious to require comment, for the double of a slam in a bidding sequence of this type calls for the lead of dummy's suit.

Mrs. Kemp did not yield to the temptation to cash the king of spades first. It was a moral certainly that Mr. Stayman was void of diamonds and retention of the high spade would enable a quick reentry to the West hand for another ruff.

The ten of diamonds is an unnatural lead from this holding. When a ruff is imminent, this is a lead directing signal requesting partner to return a high ranking suit, though even with out the signal. East's choice of the proper suit to return would have been clear.

East ruffed, returned a spade, and a second diamond lead produced the trick worth 500 points. Stayman, however, had tasted blood and proceeded toward the big kill. A neutral lead would permit declarer to win the rest of the tricks but the actual return of the king of clubs killed the dummy and yielded another trick to East's ten of clubs for an 800 point sting.

Allegany Gets $63,999 From Tax On Liquor

4.1 Per Cent Above Last Year

Allegany County will receive a total of $63,999 from the State Alcoholic Beverages Division for the fiscal year which ended June 30 from the excise tax on alcoholic beverages sold in the county.

That total is 4.1 per cent more than the $61,453.39 received in the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1956.

Checks totaling almost half a million dollars were mailed last night to Baltimore City and 22 of the state's 23 counties by the ABD in Baltimore. Garrett County does not share in the proceeds because the sale of distilled spirits is not licensed there.

State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes said the quarterly payment brought to $2,159,085 the total funds returned by the ABD during the fiscal year ended June 30.

The money represents receipts of the state liquor tax on distilled spirits. Tawes said law provides for distribution at the rate of 50 cents for each gallon delivered to retail dealers.

50 Cents Per Gallon

The number of gallons delivered for the full fiscal year amounted to 4,318,172, as against 4,092,557 the previous year.

The year's money distribution of $2,159,085 represented a 5½ per cent increase over last year's total of $2,046,278. Tawes said, however, that the payment of $476,679 mailed last night for April, May and June was a drop of 7½ per cent from the total of $515,720 for the last quarter a year ago.

"Dollarwise," said Tawes, "Baltimore City again received the top amount or a total of $1,075,134 for the entire year." Baltimore County was second, Prince Georges third and Anne Arundel fourth.

Biggest Boost

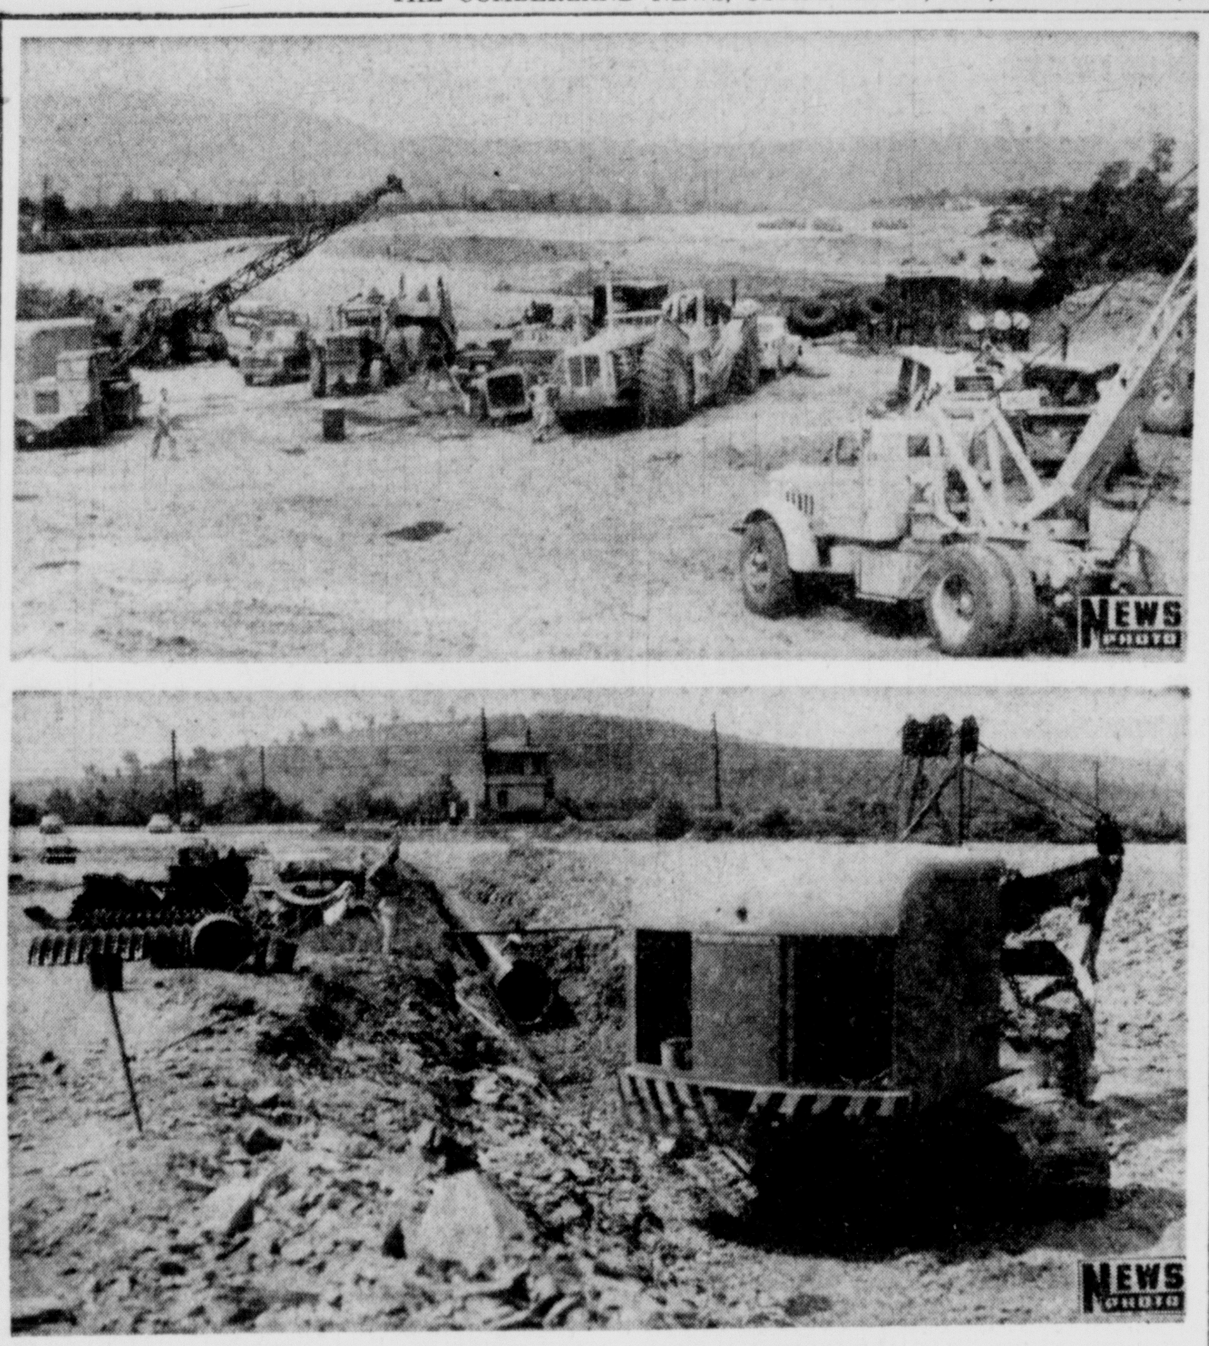

The comptroller said Queen Annes County showed the biggest increase over last year with a share almost 15 per cent higher. All but two had increases for the full year.

Somerset County had a decrease of .98 per cent and Kent County got 1.34 per cent less money.

Fiscal year totals, gallons delivered followed by money distributed, included:

Allegany County 127,998, $63,999; Baltimore City 2,150,268, $1,075,134; Carroll County 18,268, $9,134; Frederick County 79,683, $39,841.

Montgomery County 215,861, $107,930; Prince Georges County 343,512, $171,756; Washington County 117,478, $58,739.

Police Search For "Gypsies" After Thefts

Obtained $50 From Romney Storekeeper

Two women and a man, believed by police to be gypsies, are being sought after a series of thefts in Pennsylvania and West Virginia have been attributed to them.

Trooper John Ramsburg of the Romney detachment of the West Virginia State Police said the three got at least $50 on Monday at a combination grocery store and service station owned by Thomas A. Shoemaker on U. S. Route 50, seven miles west of Romney.

Trooper Ramsburg said police had received reports that the travelers also attempted to obtain money at two Mineral County establishments but were chased away. They were last seen, he said, headed south on U. S. Route 220 toward the Virginia line.

From descriptions obtained from various reports the state trooper said one woman is about 25, weighs between 135 to 150 pounds, is between 5 feet, two and three inches tall, with very dark hair and dark complexion. She is described as "well built."

The other woman is about 30, 5 feet, 4 inches tall, weighs about 120 pounds, with dark hair and dark complexion.

The man is said to be of medium build, long, shiny, black hair, dark complexion and with heavy beard.

The three were riding in a 1956 model black Ford convertible when last seen.

Trooper Ramsburg said the three seem to pick mostly on elderly persons, principally men, with one girl engaging the "victim" in conversation while his wallet is stolen.

Reports indicate the trio obtained at least $82 in a Petersburg, W. Va., theft last week and about $85 in Bedford, Pa., on Sunday.

Shoemaker told West Virginia police that the three stopped at his place about 9:30 a. m. Monday. The two women entered his establishment while the man remained in the car.

As one woman talked to the storekeeper the other took a paper bag and wallet containing the $50 from under a counter. Shoemaker did not discover the theft until about 20 minutes later.

Authorities traced the three men to a restaurant in Burlington where it was reported they attempted similar tactics on the owner but he ordered them to leave.

Later they tried to enter an antique furniture store in a private home but were chased away by neighbors. The store is located on the Mineral County-Hampshire County line on Route 50.

Trooper Ramsburg said no trace of the trio has been found since they left this area although a five-state alarm has been put out for their apprehension.

Man Fined $150 After Family Row

Calvin Tranum, 31-year-old Westernport area man, yesterday was fined $150 and costs on two motor vehicle violations and an assault charge and was placed on probation for two years at a hearing before Trial Magistrate Carl W. Shaffer in Westernport.

Tfc. Harry Bosley of the State Police said the charges resulted when Tranum became involved Monday in a family argument.

Tfc. Bosley and Tfc. Milton Hart, who aided in the investigation, said Tranum drove to the Devon Club in Luke and purchased a .30-30 calibre rifle after his wife had hidden a .22 calibre rifle which belonged to him.

Tranum is reported to have driven recklessly to his farm, located between Franklin and Barton, and then entering a nearby woods, he is said to have begun firing the rifle.

A neighbor went into the woods and disarmed Tranum before police arrived at the scene. Tranum received a badly lacerated lip in the scuffle. He was lodged overnight in the Westernport Jail.

At yesterday afternoon's hearing Tranum pleaded innocent to an assault charge, and innocent to reckless driving and another motor vehicle charge.

Magistrate Shaffer found him guilty on all three counts, fining him $25 and costs on each of the first two charges and an additional $100 and costs on the third count.

The two years probation was imposed on the condition that he refrain from drinking and be of general good behavior.

Traffic Safety Meetings Are Slated Today

Del. Driscoll, Acker Plan Conferences

Del. Fred B. Driscoll and Del. Joseph A. Acker of Baltimore City, have been appointed by the Legislative Council's Motor Vehicle committee to confer with two state agencies on traffic safety.

The legislators will meet this morning with Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., state superintendent of schools, to discuss the driver training program in Maryland schools.

In the recent session of the General Assembly, Del. Driscoll sponsored a bill which would have made it mandatory for high schools to make driver training instruction available to juniors and seniors. The additional training would have been financed by an increase in the fee for learner permits.

Later today, they will meet Paul E. Burke, chairman of the Traffic Safety Commission, for a general review of the state's traffic situation.

All members of the Traffic Safety committee will meet July 24 at 2 p. m. in the Baltimore City Hall.

At this meeting, major state agencies will be asked to present reports.

They include the Department of Motor Vehicles, State Roads Commission, Baltimore Department of Traffic Engineering, State Department of Education and the Baltimore Department of Educaion.

The committee, Del. Driscoll said, has asked each agency to list the minimum traffic safety program it will back in the 1958 Legislature.

He explained the coming General Assembly will be a 30-day session and that it will be necessary to limit the amount of legislation to be considered.

The Ladies Auxiliary, meeting simultaneously at Frostburg State Teachers College, elected Mrs. Arrington as its president.

Other officers are Mrs. Charles Bilbrough, Greensboro, vice president, and Mrs. Robert Logan, Lexington, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Arrington, by virtue of his office, was named a delegate to the national convention of the Rural Letter Carriers Association in Jackson, Miss., August 14-17.

To Select Site

Other delegates and alternates to represent Maryland at the convention will be George W. Swain, Little Orleans; Kenneth Henry, Aberdeen, Kenneth Widdowson and James W. Bowen.

Representing the Ladies Auxiliary at the national meeting will be Mrs. Charles Bilbrough, Greensboro, and Mrs. James W. Bowen.

Ocean City was tentatively selected as the site of the next state convention. Due to the difficulty of securing reservations there during the summer, a committee was appointed to decide the location, with instructions to hold the meeting at Betterton if Ocean City is not available.

Laing Is Honored

One of the highlights of the dinner Monday night was the presentation of a 50-year service pin to Charles W. Laing, Williams Road.

Good Crowd Expected At Fishing Rodeo

Up to 1,500 youths of this area are expected to attend the annual Fishing Rodeo Saturday at the Battie Mixon pond at Oldtown.

The outing, for children of the area from 7 through 17, is sponsored by the Cumberland Outdoor Club, the Oldtown Sportsmen's Club and the Cumberland Recreation Department.

Eugene Mason, recreation director, said each child should bring his own lunch but that free milk will be provided by area dairies.

No License Needed

Elaborate equipment is not needed, he said, since a pole, line and bait are the only essentials. Worms, he added, will be the most popular bait. No fishing licenses will be needed, he added.

Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of the area, he added, have accepted invitations to participate in the fishing contest, and crippled children of the area will attend as usual.

The Oldtown club has advised that weeds have been removed from the pond, and that the pool is in top condition.

The pond was stocked last week by the Game and Inland Commission.

Prizes will include awards for the biggest fish caught by boys and girls and for the most fish.

To Supervise Outing

One of the top trophies will be the P. O. Weber award, presented by the Cumberland Outdoor Club.

Both the Cumberland and Oldtown clubs will have members on hand to supervise the rodeo with members of the Cumberland Auxiliary Police.

Top supervisors and 15 playground leaders will be present to represent the Recreation Department.

Advance registration, officials said, indicate an attendance of about 1,500 youngsters.

Fuel Tax Refund May Be Claimed

The Internal Revenue Service has announced that non-highway users of motor fuels who wish to claim the one cent per gallon refund payable in the case of certain uses of gasoline, diesel fuel and special motor fuels, may obtain further information from the local office of the bureau in the Post Office here.

Under the Highway Revenue Act of 1956 the federal excise tax on gasoline and motor fuels was increased one cent effective July 1, 1956. Provision, however, was made for the IRS to refund this one cent increase in the case of motor fuels used other than in a registered highway vehicle.

Claims may be filed with the district director of internal revenue on a special form which may be obtained at the local internal revenue office. Claims must be filed during the three-months period from July 1 to September 30 of this year.

Refunds are limited to fuels which were consumed during the period from July 1, 1956 through June 30, 1957, for non-highway uses or by local transit systems.

Examples of non-highway uses include fuels used in stationary engines, pumps, generators, compressors, motorboats, aircraft, bulldozers, earth movers and others.

Three Injured In Separate Auto Crashes

Two Are Hurt Near Kitzmiller

Three persons were injured, two of them hospitalized, as a result of injuries sustained in separate automobile accidents yesterday.

Injured were Mrs. Jessie Thrasher, 70, of Washington, D. C. who is reported in "good" condition at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland; Moses Guibbory, 57, of Rowayron, Conn., treated at the hospital; and Earl S. Weishaar, 50, of Frostburg, who is reported in "fair" condition at Miners Hospital.

State Police said Mrs. Thrasher and Mr. Guibbory, driver of one of the cars, were taken to the Oakland hospital after an accident near Kitzmiller about noon yesterday.

The car was traveling south on State Route 38 and the brakes failed as the car was descending a steep grade.

When the driver lost control of the vehicle it ran off the right of the road, hit a utility pole and continued down a 15-foot embankment. Mr. Guibbory suffered a head injury and multiple cuts and bruises while Mrs. Thrasher sustained a head injury. Tfc. Robert Henline investigated.

In the other accident, Mr. Weishaar was injured early yesterday morning in a two-car crash on U. S. Route 40 at Clarysville.

He suffered a laceration of the scalp, possible fractured skull, shock and internal injuries. X-rays were taken. He underwent surgery after being admitted to Miners Hospital.

The accident occurred when Mr. Weishaar, an Amcelle plant employe, was en route to work. Troper Willis E. Foreman, of the State Police said the Frostburg man was traveling east when his vehicle ran off the shoulder of the road.

As he attempted to get back onto the road, he lost control, careened across the highway and collided with a car driven by Royce E. Adams, 22, of Star Route, Everett, Pa.

After the vehicles collided, Weishaar was thrown from his car and it continued on for about 450 feet down an embankment into a small stream.

A group of local and area Naval Reservists who are members of Surface Division 5-9 here have returned from a four-weeks good will and training cruise to South America.

Lt. Cmdr. Paul M. Arbogast, commanding officer of the local unit, made the trip with George R. Shaffer, Mt. Savage, chief machinist mate, Richard L. Cross, Bedford Road, Walter L. Blubaugh, Eastman Road, and Francis L. Ruby, Valley Road, all firemen apprentices.

Commander Arbogast said the cruise was taken aboard the USS Roberts FE 749, in company with four other destroyer escorts. While on the trip, the men visited Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico; Caracas, Venezuela; Barranquilla, Colombia; Coca Solo, Panama Canal Zone, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, and the waters of Miami, Fla., before returning to Norfolk, Va.

Highlights of the trip were the Telle Ferrico, a cable car trip up 7,000 feet to overlook Caracas; a visit to Cartagena, Colombia, where the 60-foot thick walled fort to resist pirates was toured; and a train trip to Panama City where the canal locks and ruins of old Panama City were viewed.

Each of the enlisted men completed practical training required for advancement and also reviewed working knowledge of his position aboard ship by working along with members of the ship's regular complement.

State Drought Survey Planned

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—The agriculture department will survey drought damage to Maryland tobacco and other crops, Sen. Butler (R-Md) said today.

Butler said he requested an immediate survey to determine what the government can do to help farmers. The survey will be headed by Virgil Highfill of the farmers home administration.

"Under the circumstances," Butler said, "I feel that our farm operators and dairymen will be given emergency credit by the government to help them ride out the drought. If necessary, and upon request of the governor, our state can be declared a major disaster area which would provide direct financial assistance, loans and animal feed.

"I am indeed gratified with the complete cooperation of the department of agriculture in this instance. My request for action was granted within an hour by Secretary Benson's aides. As soon as their survey is completed, it is my intention to again confer with agriculture officials to obtain a speedy follow through. Obviously, many of our farmers and dairymen are in bad shape and the sooner we can start federal aid flowing the better it will be for them."

Two Drownings Stress Need For Water Safety

Two drownings in nearby West Virginia in the past several days emphasize again the need for rural people especially to practice safety in swimming and other water sports.

Water safety specialists emphasize that tragedies from water sports are for the most part preventable.

Studies show that lack of skill and poor judgment cause most drownings. Nearly 90 per cent of the farm residents who drown are non-swimmers and most of the child drownings occur in stock tanks, cisterns, tubs and farm ponds.

The specialists offered these suggestions to help reduce needless loss of life in water sports:

Thoroughly investigate the safety of the place where you intend to swim. Don't swim alone and don't go into the water when tired or overheated or immediately after eating.

When boating, don't overload your boat. There may be seats for more people than the boat should carry. Always step into the center of the boat. Never stand up and, above all, don't permit horseplay in a moving boat. Know and heed weather signs and don't stay out in a storm.

Remove old tubs, boilers, jars, or other containers around the farmstead. It takes as little as two inches of water to drown an infant.

Protect stock watering tanks. If possible, fence them off or cover them. Also, inspect covers on cisterns and wells periodically.
